Berlin Says Hitler Will Set Own Time For Attack

German Bombers Keep Up Attacks On British Isles

New Raids Swell Death Toll Taken In Britain By Air Attacks

BRITISH PLANES IN GERMAN RAIDS

Heavy Defense Is Waged Against Nazi Air Raiders By British

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Sports Writer

LONDON, July 8.—German bombers roared over England in intensified raids today as the death toll of widespread attacks in the past 2 hours was expected to mount rapidly.

Two bombers were shot down, it was officially announced.

With a known death toll of five from last night's raids, Britain expected still further deaths from an attack on a southwest town today. A shop and two houses were completely demolished.

Six bombs were dropped on a southeastern town, but no casualties were reported and material damage was slight.

Heavy Defense Attack

The raiders were met by a heavy curtain of anti-aircraft fire and fighter defense, as the air ministry announced destruction of seven Nazi planes in an earlier communique which also told of heavy attacks on Germany.

In extensive daylight raids, the communique said, the German airdrome at Eschwege was successfully attacked.

A four-engined plane was destroyed on the ground and a Messerschmitt fighter was shot down in flames, it was said.

According to the official announcement, at least one and probably three British fighting planes are missing as a result of ocmbats yesterday and during the night.

Nearly 2,500 Nazi Planes Lost

Official records in London stated that Britain has taken a toll of nearly 2,500 German aircraft since the war began.

In one of yesterday's air battles, it was reported a squadron of Brit-

Third Term Decision Still Remains Secret

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Clarification of the third term issue was still at least a week off as President Roosevelt returned to Washington today from an eventful Hyde Park week-end.

As nearly as could be ascertained it appeared that delegates would be in their seats at the Chicago Democratic national convention next week before the chief executive makes any public statement on his intention to run, or not to run, for re-election.

Decision Is Made.

Mr. Roosevelt has made a decision on this historic question. He made the decision known Sunday to his 1932 and 1936 campaign manager, Postmaster General James A. Farley.

But neither he nor Farley took anyone else in their confidence.

Farley, a candidate himself, went to Hyde Park for a showdown. He got it.

President Roosevelt's closest associates are unanimous in the opinion "the boss" will shatter all precedent and run for a third term—although all are careful to say they are guessing.

Roosevelt And Hull Democratic Ticket Appears Most Likely

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The field for the Democratic presidential nomination at Chicago next week was being narrowed to three today, while circulation of a "confidential" new deal list of "acceptable" vice-presidents also cut to three men the number of favorites for second place on the ticket.

While it was generally conceded that President Roosevelt can have a third term nomination if he wants it, a tremendous drive was being launched on Capitol Hill to nominate Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of

Health Officer Warns Council On River Pool

Says Chlorinating System Must Be Installed For Any Swimming Pool

New Castle's city fathers cannot—legally—erect a public swimming pool, in the Neshannock creek or elsewhere, if there are not satisfactory methods of sterilizing or chlorinating the pool's water, Dr. William L. Steen, city health officer, declared today.

To city council the health director addressed a communication, which read in part:

"I have to inform you that the city cannot operate a public bathing place legally unless such bathing place has satisfactory methods of sterilizing and chlorinating the pool water. In other words, the untreated water of Neshannock creek cannot be used. This is true whether or not a charge is made for the bathing."

Dr. Steen submitted his opinion in connection with efforts to erect a "portable dam" in the Neshannock.

Councilmen are of the opinion a club or other civic group could sponsor such a dam, but that no such undertaking could legally be assumed by a governmental division.

Auto Hits Pole; Driver Injured

Machine Goes Off Road As Driver Tries To Adjust Some Milk Cans

H. D. Cunningham, aged 42, of R. F. D. No. 1 was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital this morning at 9:30 o'clock for injuries received when his automobile went off the road on the Ellwood City-New Castle highway, just east of the poor farm.

Mr. Cunningham was attempting to adjust some milk cans on the floor of the car, when he lost control of the machine, and it went off the road, striking a telephone pole. He suffered a laceration of the chin and slight injuries to his back.

Italo-German Attack Certain Upon Britain

So Declares Rome Newspaper—Assault To Come From All Directions

ITALIAN REPORT ON WAR DEVELOPMENTS

(International News Service)

ROME, July 8. — "Absolute certainty" of an Italo-German attack upon Great Britain was stressed by the newspaper Messaggero today, while the Italian Military Bulletin recounted air raids on British bases in the Mediterranean.

An assault against the British islands "from all direction" is unavoidable, "whatever length of time is necessary," Messaggero added.

"The motion that it will not occur constitutes an illusion which will be dispersed speedily," the paper said.

"All damages and punishments of the war will be paid up completely by declared and potential enemies of the axis."

Italian Communique

The Italian war communique stated:

"Yesterday aerial bombardment of the (British) naval bases at Malta and Alexandria was renewed with obviously the most efficacious results. Two of our planes did not return to their bases.

"On the Cyrenaican frontier there were encounters favorable to us against enemy motorized and armored formation, some of which were destroyed.

"One tank and one armored car were captured.

"From further news, it appears that during an air raid on Tobruk on June 5, three enemy planes—certainly at least one—were brought down.

"In East Africa, our aviation units carried out offensive reconnaissance beyond Kassala, bombing effecaciously motorized elements.

"Enemy airports at Malakal and Perin were bombed."

Damage Case Settlement Is To Be Accepted

City council, sitting this morning as a Committee of the Whole, indicated that Thursday or shortly after it will formally authorize payment of the $4,225 damages awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Stimple, 1031 Maryland avenue, for the death last summer of their daughter Charlotte at the Cascade park swimming pool.

The committee action today virtually closed the court case.

A county court jury awarded the Stimples damages of $11,700, but the city made application for a new trial. The court said the new trial would be granted unless the plaintiffs agreed to the $4,225 figure. The family has agreed to that sum and the payment will shortly be made, it is stated.

Council likely will act on it Thursday.

Mexico Awaits Count Of Ballots Cast On Sunday

Clashes On Election Day Cost At Least 47 Lives In Nation

TWO AMERICANS AMONG WOUNDED

Both Sides In Battle For Presidency Make Claims Of Victory

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, July 8.—While the nation awaited unofficial tabulated results, both sides claimed victory today after a turbulent day of balloting in which at least 47 persons were killed and hundreds wounded throughout Mexico.

Two of the wounded were American by-standers, seriously injured when they were caught in volleys of pistol shots in downtown Mexico City.

Altogether, 23 were killed and 200 wounded in Mexico's federal district alone.

Heavy Turnout

The heaviest turnout of voters in Mexico's history flocked to the polls to name either Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, government party nominee, or Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, independent candidate, as Mexico's next president.

The winner will assume office December 1, succeeding President Lazaro Cardenas.

With both sides confident of the result, political observers regarded the popular response to Almazan's campaign as the outstanding feature of the election. Thousands of workers and peasants as well as business

Marines Arrest Sixteen Armed Jap Policemen

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, July 8.—A tense atmosphere prevailed in the international settlement tonight following the release of 16 armed Japanese policemen who had been arrested by United States marines within the settlement limits.

Japanese authorities apologized for the presence of the armed group in the settlement, asserting that the Nipponese gendarmes entered the area due to a misunderstanding.

However, there was an undercurrent of rumor in the foreign colony that the Japanese were extremely upset over the occurrence, and while it could not be confirmed, there were reports that Japanese officials intended taking further action, possibly through diplomatic channels, over the matter.

It was understood that the Japanese police were not released until after the apology was received. Subsequently, there were reports that Japanese officials objected to the treatment accorded the arrested group.

Syrian Leader Is Assassinated

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, July 8.—Dr. Abdurrahman Sehbender Syrian nationalist leader was assassinated today, presumably because of his efforts to persuade Turkey, Iraq and Iran to drive the French from Syria.

Dr. Sehbender, noted for his strong anti-French views, has long been exiled from Syria. He was a strong advocate of a revolution of all Arab nations against European domination.

Eleven Killed In Malta Raid

LONDON, July 8.—Eleven persons, including two soldiers and several children, were killed in violent Italian air raids on Malta, it was announced today.

Six other soldiers were wounded and one civilian was listed among the casualties.

Several houses were destroyed.

Britain Denies French Sailors Machine-Gunned

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 8.—The British admiralty issued a formal denial today of reported French allegations that British forces machine-gunned French sailors on the decks of French warships and while they were trying to abandon their ships during the Anglo-French naval battle off Oran.

(German press dispatches said the French admiralty had charged that more than 200 members of the crew of the French battle cruiser Dunkerque were killed by British planes which machine-gunned the ship's bridge and lifeboats.

Willkie To Confer With Sen. McNary

Goes To Washington For Talk With His G. O. P. Running Mate

PARTY CHAIRMAN TO BE NAMED SOON

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 8.—Wendell L. Willkie headed for Washington by air today to talk with Senator Charles L. McNary, his running mate in the coming election, before releasing the names of the new chairman of the Republican National committee, the campaign chairman, and the 15 members of the new executive committee.

Willkie's plan is to talk with McNary today, hold a final meeting with the sub-committee of the National committee tomorrow morning at nine o'clock, and release the names just before leaving for Colorado around noon for a two or three week vacation.

The fact that the nominee expects no more than a three-hour session with the committee, indicates that all selections have been made.

Theories Given

Theories as to the campaign setup are almost as numerous as the hairs on the candidate's head but these are the favorites:

1. That Representative Joe Martin of Massachusetts will be Willkie's campaign manager and Samuel F. Pryor, Jr., national committeeman from Connecticut, will be chairman of the committee. This theory has it that Pryor will also handle the campaign while congress remains in session with Martin the nominal manager.

2. That Pryor will be the campaign manager and John D. M. Hamilton will continue as chairman of the national committee. This theory recognizes the fact that Hamilton has strong support in the national committee and also that under Willkie's campaign plans, his personal campaign manager will actually top the committee's man and coordinate the political management with the amateur-volunteer support.

Willkie had a three-hour conference with Hamilton yesterday at the Willkie home on Fifth avenue but neither man would discuss what they talked about.

Arrest Boys For Tampering With Parking Meters

Two 13-year-old negro boys charged by city police with deliberately smashing the tops of parking meters to obtain nickels, were turned over to County Parole and Probation Officer Jack M. Dunlap today.

Police Chief Willis G. McMullen said the lads have been "sucking out" coins for some time, and had broken into an East North street meter with a screwdriver. Officers Wayne U. Sines and Ray L. Richards apprehended the boys last week.

French, British To Clash Here?

THE FRENCH AIRCRAFT CARRIER BEARN

The map shows the proximity of Martinique to the Panama Canal and the American mainland. The photo is of the Bearn, France's only aircraft carrier, reported to be in port at Martinique with 100 American-made planes aboard.

German Report Claims Martinique Blockaded

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 8.—The official German news agency DNB charged today that British warships are continuing their blockade on Martinique, French West Indian port, despite London's official denial that such a blockade had been established.

A DNB Geneva dispatch said that according to latest reports reaching Vichy, seat of the French government, communications between Martinique and the continent have been cut off.

Expect Ultimatum

French naval forces at Martinique were said to be anticipating a British ultimatum to surrender.

Other German press reports charged more than 200 crew members of the French battle cruiser Dunkerque were killed by British planes which swooped low and machine-gunned the ship's bridge and lifeboats.

The allegation was attributed by a DNB Geneva dispatch to a French admiralty communique.

The Dunkerque was run aground during the Anglo-French naval battle off Oran, Algeria, last Wednesday. A British communique announced the vessel had been bombed heavily by British planes on Saturday to prevent any chance of its being used in the European war by the Germans.

Gardner Avenue Viaduct Will Be Closed Thursday

Effective at seven o'clock Thursday morning, July 11, the Gardner Avenue viaduct will be closed to vehicular traffic, County Commissioner George H. Bolinger announced today. The viaduct will be closed until the new flooring is installed and other repairs made. It is estimated that the viaduct will be closed at least ten days or two weeks.

Street car passengers will be transferred at the viaduct and will walk across to get other cars. Motor vehicles will have to detour either to Cherry street bridge or the West Washington street bridge.

Heavy Air Raids Made On Malta

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 8—Heavy air raids against the British Mediterranean base at Malta began at 3 p. m., yesterday, an exchange telegraph dispatch said today.

By 10 a. m., today, said the report, the Italians already had lost five planes.

Expect Hatch Bill To Become U. S. Law Soon

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Major political parties faced the necessity of drastic revision of their campaign programs today, as Democratic leaders in congress predicted that the new Hatch "clean politics" bill will soon become a law.

The measure, which extends the present ban on political activity by federal employes to include state and local employes paid partly by federal funds, is scheduled for debate in the house tomorrow. It has been approved by the senate.

The provisions which vitally affect the Republican and Democratic parties, however, are found in a limit of $3,000,000 on party expenditures, a limit of $5,000 on individual campaign gifts and a ban on sale of advertising in campaign books.

The house judiciary committee, which will present the measure to the house, sought to ease the effect of the measure on the present national campaign by making it effective October 1.

Marine Office Is Open For Business

Office equipment arrived today for the newly established Marine Recruiting Station in the post office building.

According to Sergeant Edward J. Krivonak, officer-in-charge, the office is now "ready for business". Any person interested in joining the U. S. Marine Corps may apply to Sergeant Krivonak for physical and mental examinations.

Hitler Confers On Plans For British Drive

Key Military Advisers Of Nazis In Conference With Chancellor

PRESENT MOMENT LULL BEFORE STORM

Berlin Report Says Hitler To Decide Time For Start Of Campaign

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, July 8.—Amid general expectations that Germany's promised blow against England is not far distant, Chancellor Hitler conferred with Field Marshall Hermann Wilhelm Goering and the other key military advisers today.

Authoritative sources in Berlin, where Hitler has now transferred his headquarters, described the present moment as a lull before the storm.

Small crowds stood outside, watching officials come and go from Hitler's headquarters, anticipating the Fuehrer will quickly give the signal for his next move. Authentic quarters told International News Service:

Hitler To Decide Time

"Hitler alone will decide when the moment is ripe for what is going to happen. Naturally he is in consultation with our friends, for which purpose Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano came here.

(A dispatch from Geneva reported that advices from Berlin said the "real object" of Ciano's visit concerned the new anti-British attitude of France, Italian anxiety over Soviet Russia policy in the Balkans and preparations for Italy's role in the expected Italo-German attack upon England.)

Ciano, who conferred with Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, departed for the German-occupied areas of France, Belgium and Holland. He will return to Berlin Wednesday.

His discussions here covered every problem in the present European situation, with particular reference to southeastern Europe, where Axis policy is aimed at future "peaceful revision."

It was understood in Berlin that French military action against England will continue "on a separate plane."

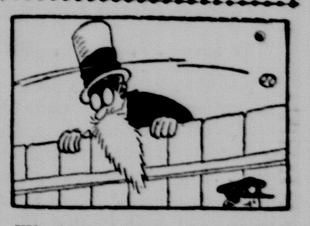

Farmer Is Hurt While Raking Hay

Joe Grzesuik, aged 49, of Edenburg, R. D. 1, was seriously injured some time this morning while raking hay in a field near his home, in the vicinity of the Harbor bridge.

According to reports, Mr. Grzesuik went to the field at 7:30 o'clock. He was found some time later by his wife after she had noticed the horses wandering about the field and the hay rake against a tree.

Mr. Grzesuik, admitted to the New Castle hospital at noon, is in an unconscious condition and the full extent of his injuries have not as yet been determined.

Berlin Reports New Air Attacks On Britain

Ship Convoys Also Bombed

Nazis Claim 21,500 Tons Of British Shipping Sunk By Submarines

"FEW BOMBS DROP" UPON GERMAN SOIL

BERLIN, July 8.—Sinking of 21,500 tons of British merchant ships off Spain and widespread aerial attacks upon objectives in England were announced by the German high command today.

"German submarines sank 21,500 tons of enemy merchant tonnage off Spain, including the armed British 13,000-ton vessel San Francisco," the war communique said.

"The air force bombed the railway station at Brighton and shore batteries on the Isle of Wight and the Port of Falmouth as well as armament plants at Middlesborough and Newcastle.

Bombed Convoys

"The air force also bombed convoys and ship concentrations off the south coast of England, sinking two merchant vessels and one transport and heavily damaging others.

"The British royal air force in the daytime dropped a few bombs on western Germany without success. Night raids on northern and western Germany caused but slight damage. Two civilians were killed.

"Total R. A. F. losses amounted to 14 planes, including 10 Spitfires lost in air battles over the English channel. Three German planes are missing.

ROOSEVELT AND HULL DEMOCRATIC TICKET APPEARS MOST LIKELY

Montana if the president does not run. Besides Roosevetl and Wheeler, Secretary of State Cordell Hull was being mentioned.

Wheeler In Spotlight

Since Hull's age is against him—he will be 69 in October—Wheeler became the outstanding favorite in many quarters, providing Mr. Roosevelt takes himself out of the race. Wheeler's name, it was learned, will be placed in nomination by Sen. Clark (D) Ida., regardless of whether the president runs.

(Editor's note: Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National committee, told reporters at Hyde Park, N. Y., after a conference with Mr. Roosevelt that he knows the president's intentions regarding a third term. But Farley added that he will not divulge the secret.)

Six For Vice President

Meanwhile, members of the New Deal "Palace Guard" were circulating a list of names among high Democratic politicos, asking whether the men mentioned would be "acceptable" as the vice presidential nominee. As shown to one man, this list had six names on it. They were those of Wheeler, Hull, House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas, Sen. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Vice-President John Nance Garner and Postmaster General James A. Farley.

New Dealers themselves were reported to have crossed the names of Garner and Farley from the list. Wheeler, it was learned, told them that he was running for the presidency and would not accept second place. This left Hull, Rayburn and Byrnes as the New Deal favorites.

Roosevelt And Hull

The New Dealers were driving for a ticket of Roosevelt and Hull, believing that it would be the strongest to oppose the G.O.P. team of Wendell Willkie and Charles McNary.

However, the boom for Wheeler was gaining formidable strength. It was reportedly being backed by Sens. Norris of Nebraska, Johnson of Colorado, Smathers of New Jersey, Clark of Missouri, Clark of Idaho and Minton of Indiana, although some of them were pledging their first loyalty to Mr. Roosevelt.

Wheeler will leave Washington Thursday to open headquarters in Chicago. His presence there will be significant, since he and many others have warned that a third party might arise if the Democrats fail to write a strong anti-war plank into their platform.

With the convention only seven days away and congress planning a 10-day recess because of it, a check-up showed today that at least four names will be placed in nomination for the presidency and nearly a score for the vice-presidency. Besides the names of President Roosevelt and Wheeler, those of Farley anl Garner were certain to be presented for the top spot.

Betting favored the men the president might select, whoever they may happen to be. Unti Mr. Roosevelt breaks his silence on the third term, the favorites were—Mr. Roosevelt for president, Hull for vice-president.

GERMAN BOMBERS KEEP UP ATTACKS ON BRITISH ISLES

ish Spitfires engaged a group of German Messerschmidts, shooting down three.

Two German bombers and a pursuit machine were shot down over the English Channel coast and still another was shot down in flames after raiding southwestern England.

German bombs blasted homes and apartment buildings in a raid on a southwestern English town, where the five civilians were killed. Earlier a number of houses were demolished by bombs in the western section of the country, presumably near Liverpool.

Incendiary Bombs Dropped

A number of persons were injured and several houses set on fire in northeastern England early this morning when German planes dropped incendiary and high explosive bombs in that area.

British advices said minor casualties were inflicted by two raids on Malta, British Mediterranean base. One of the raiding planes, presumably Italian, was reported shot down.

British bombers carried out attacks on widely separated targets including barges aboard which Germany was believed preparing to send troops for the anticipated invasion of the British Isles.

British planes struck at barges in the Dutch Zwolle-Katwijk canal and bombed naval and air bases, shipbuilding plants and other German military objectives.

Kiel Canal Entrance Attacked

Authorities said the entrance to the Kiel canal and seaplane bases at Norderney and Hornum also were attacked by British planes, which also dropped explosives on a large armaments depot at Emden. German-occupied airdromes also were attacked.

The British admitted loss of three planes participating in these long-range expeditions designed to break up German preparations to invade England.

The admiralty revealed that naval planes attacked the German-held Norwegian port of Bergen. A communique said:

"Oil tanks and an oil tanker were subjected to heavy dive-bombing attacks. They were set on fire. All our aircraft returned."

Another admiralty announcement said a single British submarine, the Snapper, torpedoed and presumably sank five German ships sailing in Nazi convoys off Norway.

MEXICO AWAITS COUNT OF BALLOTS CAST ON SUNDAY

men supported Almazan against what was called the "imposition" of Camacho's candidacy by the Cardenas government machine.

Wounded Americans

The seriously wounded Americans were Edward J. Mallen, Jr., 28 South Boston street, Tulsa, Okla., and Leonard Durso, 18, Union City, N. J., a student of Georgetown university, Washington, D. C.

(Editor's Note: The state department at Washington listed Mallen as a resident of Davenport, Ia. It was explained in Mexico City, however, that the Davenport address had been given to American authorities in Mexico City in error.)

Shot in the stomach, Mallen was reported in critical condition in the Green Cross hospital. Durso was shot in the left side and taken to the same hospital.

Three companions were with Durso when the latter was shot down. One of them, Ivan Hasslocher, a Brazilian whose father formerly was commercial counselor of the Brazilian embassy in Washington, was grazed by a bullet.

The other two, Francis E. Maloney, Jr., of Washington, and Parkman Clancy, Tacoma Park, Md., escaped injury.

Was Walking Alone

Mallen was walking alone when a bullet struck him down near Mexico City's central post office.

Trend of the election will not become known until later today, when unofficial tabulation of the votes begins.

Commenting on the election, Almazan addressed this message to the people of Mexico:

"Your civic spirit, enthusiasm, courage and dignity were demonstrated by your overwhelming victory...you have incontestably consumed your right to direct your own destinies."

He added:

"The people responded so admirably that some gangs paid to attack us turned on their employers and joined our ranks."

The wounded in Mexico City included Jorge Andreau, Almazan's nephew, who was shot in the leg.

Bloody Battles

In the bloody election battles throughout the republic, dynamite and tear gas bombs, machine guns, rifles, pistols and grenades were among the weapons used in hundreds of fierce clashes in Mexico City and other towns.

At many points Almazan supporters established their own ballot boxes, charging "interference" by Camacho adherents at the regular polling booths.

Two dynamite bombs were reported used by a Camacho group in a voting place in a Mexico City suburb.

Thousands of troops and reinforced police were busy trying to maintain order among the estimated 3,000,000 voters. No general revolutionary uprising to overthrow the Cardenas regime developed despite the widespread violence.

Voting in the capital was marked by the almost continuous wail of ambulance sirens as they raced to take the wounded to hospitals.

give it," said Farley at the end of a two-hour conference with the man he twice managed into the White House.

Whether the "answer" is satisfactory to big Jim Farley is another question that apparently will not be clarified until the Chicago convention actualy assembles to nominate the 1940 Democratic standard bearer.

Farley wouldn't discuss his own plans any more than he would the president's. He refused to say whether his own name would be placed in nomination, as earlier announced, and he refused to comment on seemingly well authenticated reports he plans to retire from both the cabinet and the Democratic National Chairmanship to become president of the New York Yankees baseball club.

Deaths of the Day

George Pivarnik.

George Pivarnik, aged 56, of 7 Balph avenue, passed away at his home on Sunday at 8:50 p. m. Death came suddenly, Mr. Pivarnik having been up and around his home during the day.

Mr. Pivarnik was born in Czechoslovakia, January 3, 1884, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pivarnik. He had resided in New Castle for the past 20 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Pivarnik, four sons, Stephen, George, Andrew and Joseph, two brothers and one sister, Joseph of Homestead, Pa., John and Elizabeth in Czechoslovakia.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence with further services at 9:30 o'clock in St. Michael's church. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Wendell H. Shipler

Taken suddenly ill with a heart attack while visiting in Pulaski on Saturday afternoon, Wendell H. Shipler, aged 79, of 312 Highland avenue, died enroute to the Jameson Memorial hospital at about 4 o'clock.

Mr. Shipler was a retired engineer, having been connected with the engineering works here for a number of years. He retired about ten years ago. A New Castle resident for about 45 years, he was born in Mercer on January 15, 1861. For 12 years he had been married to Fannie Jane Wood Shipler, who survives him.

Mr. Shipler was a member of the First Methodist church, the B. P. O. E., Mahoning and Shenango Valley Engineers' society and the Pennsylvania Club of Canada.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Shipler is survived by a granddaughter, Marg Jo Patterson; the following step-children: Mrs. Grace Wood Mitcheltree of New York, Kenneth G. Wood of Indianapolis, R. Allen Wood of Wooster, O., John Overbeck of Cleveland, O., and four great-grandchildren, Bonnie Lee Patterson, James Frederick Wood, Robert Wood Mitcheltree and Allen Wood.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Hodge funeral home, East Wallace avenue, wtih Rev. W. V. McLean, pastor of the First Methodist church, in charge. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

The family is receiving friends at the funeral home this afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock and this evening from 7 until 9 o'clock.

William Good

William Good, aged 77, of Meadville, Pa., father of Mrs. Lloyd W. Strayer, of 426 Winter avenue, died Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Although he had been in failing health for some time, his condition did not become serious until early Saturday morning. Mrs. Strayer was at his bedside when he expired.

Mr. Good had been blind for 58 years, as the result of an injury sustained when a young man, but in spite of this affliction, he engaged in business in Meadville, where he was quite successful. Mr. Strayer went to Meadville to join his wife Saturday evening, and to remain for the funeral services.

Mr. Good is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Strayer, and one son, W. Harold Good, of Meadville; two sisters, Misses Katherine and Sarah Good, and one brother, Charles Good, all of Meadville. Mrs. Good preceded her husband in death on January 1, 1940.

Funeral services will take place from the Fleming Funeral home, 837 Market street, Meadville, on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Emma Gertrude Poplar.

Mrs. Emma Gertrude Poplar, aged 77, of 207 East Sheridan avenue, died suddenly Sunday at 9:55 p. m. Mrs. Poplar had been sitting on the porch until 9 p. m. when she took suddenly ill, and although she had been in failing health for some time, her death was unexpected.

Mrs. Poplar was born January 1, 1863, at Havre de Grace, Md., daughter of John T. and Elizabeth Jones Riley. She was the widow of James E. Poplar and had made her home for some time with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Lang, at the Sheridan avenue address.

Surviving are three daughters, Miss Bertha Poplar, Mrs. Clarence Bell, Mrs. Lang, one son, Victor C. Poplar, all of New Castle; the following grandchildren, Mrs. Mildred Hahn, Mrs. Dean Peet, Miss Elizabeth Mayers, James Poplar, all of New Castle, Mrs. Merle Parks, George Benscoter, of Pittsburgh, and two great-grandchildren, Phyllis and Barbara Parks, Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence in charge of Rev. W. R. Vaughn, pastor of the Edenburg Christian church. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Laura Shafer Johnson

Mrs. Laura Shafer Johnson, widow of James S. Johnson, passed away at her home, 316½ Neshannock avenue, this morning at 5:45 o'clock after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Johnson, member of a pioneer family of Lawrence county, was born July 26, 1851, and would have been 89 years of age if she had lived until the 26th of this month. She was born on the Shafer homestead at East Brook, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Simonton Shafer, and spent all of her life in this county.

On August 2, 1872, she was married to Mr. Johnson, who preceded her in death in December, 1938. A member of the First Christian church, Mrs. Johnson was always most active in church work.

Survivors are six children, Mrs. W. L. Aiken of Sharon, Mrs. C. H. Wright of Los Angeles, Ida M., at home, Frank and Richard of Imperial, Walter of Warren, O.; two grandchildren and one great-grandson; one sister, Mrs. Eva Stauffer Camling of Oregon, Ill.; one sister-in-law, Mrs. Anna Duffy, this city, and two brothers-in-law, Silas Johnson, this city, and Henry Johnson, Mayfield, Idaho.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Offutt Funeral home, North Mercer street, with Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Interment will be in Rose Point cemetery.

Friends will be received at the funeral home Tuesday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock.

William Fredrick C. Minner, Sr.

Complications following an illness resulted in the death of William Fredrick C. Minner, Sr., aged 47, of 910 East Washington street, who passed away this morning at 9:30 o'clock at his home.

Mr. Minner, born June 13, 1893, had been an employee of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation for 30 years and was transferred to Farrell where he worked until May 22. For 26 years, he had been married to Rhea Bentley Minner, who survives him. A son, Walter, preceded him in death on January 18 of this year.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Minner leaves four daughters, Margaret, Edna Mae, Shirley Jean and Eleanor Ruth, and two sons, William Jr., and Bobby, all at home.

The body will be removed to the residence this evening from the Cunningham funeral home, East Washington and Chestnut streets. Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence with Rev. F. W. Parks, pastor of the Dewey Avenue Free Methodist church, in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

North Mercer street, and north on Mercer street to the city line. Work is now in progress on the last section near the northern city line. The contract was one of the biggest WPA-city projects attempted, and has been in progress for a couple of years. The streets of a large section of the north hill will drain storm water into this new sewer. At some points the sewer is 25 or more feet underground.

This morning City Council approved a contract agreement with the Allegheny Equipment Co., Pittsburgh, for the purchase of a heavy-duty gasoline shovel for $3,995. The matter was before council earlier. The equipment will go to the street department.

Police Chief Issues Warning

"Carnival shows must be kept decent and rackets kept out," Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen warned today as carnivals and circus hosts moved into the city.

He said there'll be "police action" if violations are found.

Patrons, the chief explained, must also remember that they themselves innocently help those very things along.

"There's very little to be gained from those games and gadgets," McMullen added.

FAITH
Six months of 1940 have slipped away. It only seems a few days since the beginning of this new year, but we suppose there has been more happened in the six months of 1940 than has ever happened in the same length of time in the history of the world. Nations, states, communities and business the world over are all upset. They know not which way they are going, and wondering from day to day what is going to happen tomorrow. There never was a time when humanity was put to the test as they are today. And, if ever they should put forth all their strength and ability toward helping to bring us out of this great dilemma that we are in, it is now.
There must be more fellowship, brotherly love and more confidence in one another, if we are ever going to get back with our feet upon the earth and our eyes toward Heaven.

MRS. C. RUTHRAUFF ENTERTAINS FOR BRIDE

Mrs. Raymond Woods of Koppel, nee Frieda Schmolly, of New Galilee, a recent bride, was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Clarence Ruthrauff at her home on Norwood avenue, Saturday evening.

Games and contests were the pastimes, and at a late hour the hostess aided by her sister, Elsie Davis, of Massillon, O., served a dainty lunch.

Varicolored balloons, with original verses attached, were hanging throughout the living room, and as each guest broke a balloon, she read a verse telling the honoree where a gift was hidden in the Ruthrauff home. The honored guest responded in a most gracious manner.

HELEN P. ORR WEDS ERNEST R. THOMPSON

Helen Putney Orr, of Putneyville, became the bride of Ernest Russell Thompson, of Harlansburg, last Wednesday morning in the First Presbyterian church of Franklin.

Rev. William H. Orr, uncle of the bride, read the double ring ceremony at 11:45 o'clock, and the couple was unattended.

The bride wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories and her shoulder corsage was of pink rosebuds.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Business Woman's Club and the table was decorated in the traditional bridal style.

Mrs. Thompson was graduated from Geneva College and was a former teacher in the Putneyville schools. The grom attended Youngstown College and is a teacher in the Harlansburg High School.

Following a wedding trip through the New England states, the couple will reside in Harlansburg.

FIELD CLUB BRIDGE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Women members of the New Castle Field club will take part in an afternoon bridge planned for their pleasure on Wednesday of this week, play beginning shortly after 1 o'clock.

Mrs. S. E. Patterson, hostess in charge on this date, will receive reservations at her residence, 302 Boyles avenue.

MRS. NETTIE KIRKER TENDERED FAREWELL

A lovely party of the past week took place in the home of Mrs. Ada Hurst, 135 North Beaver street, when she entertained informally at a farewell party Friday evening, honoring Mrs. Nettie Kirker of 1602 Hamilton street. The latter is leaving this week for Harrisburg, where she will make her permanent residence.

The hours were spent informally with a varied program of games, and at an appropriate time Mrs. Kirker was showered with an array of dainty hankies, each enfolding good wishes for happiness in her new surroundings.

A delicious lunch was a later pleasure, 30 guests being served by the hostess. She was aided by her daughters, Mrs. J. E. McIntyre and Miss Helen Hurst, with the menu.

Harbor Society

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the Harbor U. P. church gathered for their week end meeting in the home of Mrs. Anna Matthews at the Harbor, for an all-day session.

Mrs. William Reid led the prayer circle at 11. Luncheon was served by the social committee at noon. Mrs. Gladys Allen led in the devotional services and Mrs. Matthews concluded the business period.

August 1, members will meet with Mrs. Howard Cox at the Harbor.

FINAL SUMMER SEWING AT HOSPITAL WEDNESDAY

In winding up the summer season of sewing for Jameson Memorial Hospital, the last group assembly is scheduled for Wednesday morning, July 10, from 9 until 12 o'clock, in the Solarium with the Baldwin Bible Class of Highland United Presbyterian church as hostesses in charge. Mrs. C. J. Streib is president of the class.

There is much to be accomplished, inasmuch as this marks the closing meeting of its kind, until September, a recess being called during the month of August. It is hoped that other women interested will be on hand to join in activities on this date. They will be cordially welcomed by the class members.

Cutters wil be Mrs. D. C. Lindley and Mrs. A. W. Urmson.

WALLACE-FORSYTHE ENGAGEMENT REVEALED

A unique announcement party of Saturday evening took place in the home of Miss Ruth Gilchrist, Mt. Jackson, when she entertained a group of friends, making known the engagement of Miss Miriam Wallace of North Beaver township and J. LeRoy Forsythe of Millheim, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Forsythe of Wilkinsburg.

The event was cleverly carried out in the theme of a drug store, inasmuch as Mr. Forsythe is a pharmacist. The appointments were typical of a drug store, and when lunch time arrived, the room was converted into the "Millheim Pharmacy", with advertisements being used to much effect, featuring a color scheme of green, gold and white. Amidst this setting a tasty menu was enjoyed.

Preceding entertainment was found in cards and a treasure hunt out of doors, which climaxed festivities. The treasure was discovered as being small "mysterious favors" which were later opened in the dining room. They were found to be pill boxes, and inscribed on the lids read "Miriam and LeRoy—September 14".

Stanley-Dean News

Miss Mae Stanley, of the Margaret Henry Home, Friendship street, became the bride of John Dean, son of Mrs. K. L. Lyon, of North Mercer street, on Saturday July 6. Alderman B. J. Biondi officiated.

The bride wore a gown of poudre' blue with a bridal corsage orchids. Mrs. Thomas Leach, as maid of honor, was attired in a similar poudre blue gown and a catching orchid corsage.

Thomas Leach, this city, attended the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Leach, Home street, with a buffet supper featuring. A huge wedding cake centered the buffet table, which was presented as a gift from Mrs. Lida Green and the other children of the Home.

The couple will take up residence in their newly furnished apartment at 330 Neshannock avenue.

Friendly Friends

Friendly Friends club members were entertained for their week-end meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cooper, Scotland Lane.

Cards were featured and winners were Mrs. Harry Cook and Mrs. William McDevitt. Tasty refreshments were served, the hostess being aided by her daughter.

DECLINE OF FOREIGN PRESS

EUROPE, which makes so much news, gets little. Even in the one European country whose press is still reasonably free, the quantity of news is severely limited. Nine dailies of national circulation, published in London, which used to print 16 to 20 pages a day, are now down to six pages, with a prospect of shrinking soon to four. At least one paper, the Daily Worker, is already reduced to a single sheet.

This is the result of a shortage of paper. The supply has been greatly reduced by the Nazi seizure of Norway and other possible sources of newsprint. Naturally there is no coverage now of many important kinds of news hitherto printed as a matter of course.

There is probably a shortage of paper, too, over most of continental Europe. But shrinkage of size in newspapers there is dictated even more by limitation of subject matter. In the countries taken over by Hitler, including France, general and trustworthy news is now almost nonexistent. Everywhere there is censorship, and in Germany itself news seems to be mainly propaganda.

So the light goes out over Europe. And only one country remains—the United States—where the news of this tragic era, in as far as it is obtainable, is fully and truly printed.

NO MEAN CUSTOMER

When war threatens and Uncle Sam steps up to a counter as a customer he is no mean purchaser. Illustrating the liberal manner in which he orders is a contract the War Department made one day last week for cloth sufficient to provide 1,552,000 uniforms.

About 5,000,000 yards costing $27,234,460 were involved in the awards which went to sixty corporations in various parts of the country. This was the largest transaction involving Army uniforms ever negotiated in the United States

The largest award was to the American Woolen company of New York, its value being $7,233,250. Most of the mills getting large awards were in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey.

A LAW THAT SAVES LIVES AND LIMBS

The efficacy of the new state-wide fireworks law was again demonstrated when the Fourth of July casualty list showed no deaths and only a few minor injuries from explosives in Pennsylvania.

This gratifying record is in sharp contrast with that of only two years ago, prior to passage of the regulatory bill, when eight persons were killed and 1702 injured in Pennsylvania.

Even with sale of fireworks banned, a few luckless individuals managed to get hurt. Firecrackers brought in from unrestricted areas and bootlegged were responsible for some injuries, and cap pistols, still permissible, for others. More stringent action against bootleg dealers and possible extension of the ban to cap pistols are indicated measures.

Meanwhile the good example set by Pennsylvania and the other states which protect their citizens from fireworks should stimulate the movement for nation-wide observance of the Fourth of July without the hazards of gun-powder.

ANTICIPATE OPENING INVASION

With the intensification of air raids over England, now almost a constant occurrence by day and by night, the manner of the German invasion of the island, as experts previously have outlined it, is further confirmed.

The opening of the blitzkrieg on the Britons is to be by bombing blasts from the air designed to be so devastating in the end that the British spirit will break and permit the Germans, in an hour of widespread distraction, to make troop lodgment on the coasts.

This is the startegy Hitler obviously has in mind and, barring a diversion in the Balkans due to the always dubious actions of the Russian bear, the Hitler advance on the island is now at hand.

The tactics to be employed, with the campaign based on spirit-breaking air bombing, can turn out to be Hitler's undoing. Heretofore his audacious advances have prospered through the use of surprise attack or through encountering weak resistance. In the imminent event in England both surprise and weakness in resistance are absent.

The British hourly are expectant of the final assault and no preliminary aerial attack, however intense, can discourage the hosts fighting before their hearths and for a homeland that is also the heart of an empire.

REGISTERING OF ALIENS

The 3,500,000 aliens in the United States have four months to visit the nearest post office and get themselves registered and fingerprinted. As the law requiring this action goes into effect, American citizens have several important things to consider.

One of these is their own records. General registration of births is a comparatively recent practice. Many adult Americans today may find themselves having to prove their own citizenship without the help of birth certificates. They will be wise to find out about this right away and to take whatever steps are necessary to "prove that they were born," a little matter about which the late Will Rogers once had considerable difficulty.

Another point for thought and honesty was mentioned by President Roosevelt when he signed the registration bill.

"The alien registration act of 1940 should be interpreted and administered as a program designed not only for the protection of the country, but also for the protection of the loyal aliens who are its guests. Most of the aliens in this country came here because they believed in and had faith in the principles of American democracy, and they are entitled to and must receive the full protection of the law."

We will do our own democracy an injury, as well as the wronged aliens, if we harass friendly, law-abiding, potential good citizens.

There were two noble experiments. America's eighteenth amendment and France's Maginot line.

All the warring countries are now on the seven-day week. There's nothing like war to abolish short hours of work.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN SCHOOL IS OUT

MOST FAMILIES will be at home all summer. Since school let out the mother may have been under increased nervous strain because the children are home all day and every day. In many homes there are more irritations during vacation, more quarreling among the children, more hours of noise and commotion.

Also there may be more strain on the nerves of the children; more strain on the pre-school child who used to be left at home while his older brother or sister went to school; even more strain on the child who had been going to school. For many, if not for most children, the regularity of going to school and the variety of the day's experience afford good emotional outlets.

On the other hand, release from school can have a very relaxing effect on the school child in the well-ordered home.

Plan Summer Program

Let me urge you, my fellow parent, to work out a program with the children and for the children during the summer. Let your children share in arriving at this program. Then they will be the more ready to abide by it. Besides, that family atmosphere is most wholesome in which all members feel they have a part.

Of course, human nature is such that children won't always, not even generally, choose to assign themselves regular jobs which mean hard work and self-denials. Often the parents will have to assign these responsibilities and employ some coercion to guarantee their fulfillment. No use to fool ourselves that all these jobs can be made attractive by clever motivation; just see that they are done. Even then, the assignment should appear to the child more just and reasonable if he felt free to talk with his parents beforehand about its nature and purpose.

Each child over five or six should have some definite daily responsibilities during the summer, which he can't escape, no matter how many maids there are. In the average home (which has no maid) the child or children should have a definite share in the regular cares of the house. If there are two or more children over ten or twelve (boys or girls), much of the house work can be done by these children, the mother supervising calmly and having abundant time for relaxation and recreation.

Get Done Early

Let the main house chores be done right after breakfast, with opportunity, perhaps, for a free hour or so in the morning and two or three free hours in the afternoon. A quiet period of about two hours early in the afternoon is very desirable. A good time then to sleep, loll or read. I wish children would read more during the summer, and that more of them and their parents would go to the public library.

Some of the school-age children should take music lessons and do regular practice during the summer.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SHOULD BE IMITATED

The farmers of the Constitution of these United States were a very fine collection of intelligent colonists—very wise and very intent upon not only making the Constitution a living document, but to start the nation off right.

Alexander Hamilton did strongly advise a kingship and proposed George Washington as the first king. It is possible that had George Washington possessed a son of his own at that time, the Constitution would have been modeled upon a kingship rather than a presidency. At any rate, George Washington was chosen as the first President. He served two terms. His friends pressed him to continue to serve a third term and so on until death would relieve him of his duties, but no, he firmly declined, and the spirit of his Farewell Address might be recommended to the present President. He said, it will be remembered, in that remarkable State paper:

"The period for a new election of a citizen to administer the Executive Government of the United States being not far distant, and the time actually arrived when your thoughts must be employed in designating the person who is to be clothed with that important trust, it appears to me proper, especially as it may conduce to a more distinct expression of the public voice, that I should now apprise you of the resolution I have formed, to decline being considered among the number of those out of whom a choice is to be made.

"I beg you at the same time, to do me the justice to be assured that this resolution has not been taken without a strict regard to all the considerations appertaining to the relation which binds a dutiful citizen to his country; and that, in withdrawing the tender of service, which silence, in my situation might imply, I am influenced by no diminution of zeal for your future interest; no deficiency of grateful respect for your past kindness; but am supported by a full conviction that the step is compatible with both."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:33. Sun rises tomorrow 4:37.

It will not be a very hard job to organize a "Willkie for President" club in New Castle. Why not one right away?

It's a wonder some of those motorcyke riders who make Highland avenue a speedway don't kill a lot of people, or maybe themselves. The way they race at about 75 miles an hour, roaring and back-firing, honking and making other kinds of noise is not pleasant to hear.

A bird was arrested for reckless walking in South Carolina when he walked into a parked automobile. No doubt he will sue the owner of it for damages.

We have often wondered if preachers ever get embarrassed when they attend the meetings of some clubs. We have been ourselves—and we are nothing like a preacher.

It isn't marriage that fails, but people. The same behavior would make a business partnership fail.

An ambitious young man was soliciting subscriptions to a magazine in Croton the other day. He had his little "piece" well learned, and this is what he said when a woman came to answer the door: "Today we are giving away this fountain pen——" The housewife put out an arm, seized the pen, said "Thank you", and slammed the door in his face.

TREASURE CHESTS

Old misers hunt deserted spots,
Then excavate some earth,
And in crude holes hide flimsy sacks
Containing things of worth.

While business men prefer bank vaults,
Where they are very sure
Their valued papers, stocks and bonds
Are watched and quite secure.

Unnumebered hearts are treasure chests;
For most of them conceal
Sweet recollections—veiled from all
Which time will not reveal.

A cradle makes a chest for me,
As wealth beyond all measure,
Is held within its fragile bars;
A priceless living treasure.

It is said a black fruit cake is a groom's cake. There would have to be something sombre about it.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

Three year old Nancy's father had set up a new radio. Nancy listened with rapt attention to everything—music, speeches and station announcements.

That night she knelt to say her "Now I Lay me." At the end she paused just a moment and then said:

"Tomorrow night at this same hour there will be another prayer."

"What's wrong, Henry?" said a Neshannock avenue wife. "My razor," he boomed within the bathroom. "It doesn't cut at all." "Don't be silly. Your beard cannot be tougher than linoleum," said wifey.

People in London are drilling on roofs and on the streets, preparing themselves for invasion. Looks as if they should have started sooner.

NOTHING IN IT

I heard a good story other day at my club about a little girl who had complained to her mother that she had a stomach ache. The mother told her that was because she had not had any lunch and her stomach was empty: that she would feel better after eating something.

A few days later the minister called. He complained of having a headache.

"That's because it's empty" said the child, "you'd feel better if you had something in it."—H. S.

A noted leader in Germany says the war will put an end to gentlemen. They will be replaced by the modern citizen worker type. Wars always do some good things.

An Ohio woman is suing a grocer for $50,000 damages because she fell over a basket in his store. Hope he can prove she was reaching for a sample of something.

A funeral was delayed at Holidaysburg because the rough box was stolen from near the grave. Do your own commenting.

THE PUG KNEW

Anxious that his meeting should go off quietly the temperance reformer had hired an ex-prizefighter to keep order. Now he was speaking in glowing words:

"What is it that we all want when we get home tired from work? What do we all long for to lighten our burdens to gladden our hearts and to bring a smile of true happiness to our lips?"

When he paused for effect, the ex-prizefighter butted in:

"And the first man who says 'a drink' goes out on his ear."

Good Taste

"What's the matter? Working too hard over at the new house?"

This thoughtless remark intended for sympathy by a man popping into the room just spoiled a week-end party for a friend of mine because she accepted it as an insinuation that she looked haggard.

Why do well-intentioned people persist in these personal remarks almost invariably misinterpreted as unkind criticism. One friend says: "My dear, you look as though the cuisine was good up there in the mountains" and she is hated for a cat who insinuates that you are again too fat. Auntie remarks: "Darling, you look as though you have danced enough for a while," and the young victim suffers from the thought that the boys must be thinking that she is not holding out as well as the other girls.

A one-time neighbor returned for Old Home Week remarks in his polite way: "Time is certanly treating you kindly, Charlotte" and Charlotte despises him for his insinuation that she is really older than she looks. But if another friend says: "That hat doesn't do you justice" Charlotte dams her for suggesting that she looks old and worn today.

Since his wife has taken on so much weight a man had quit helping her into the car. Feeling the slight, she complained:

Root First To Boost For Willkie
Many Others Lay Claim To Honors
Selection Of Chairman Important

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 8

THE NUMBER of persons who claim to have thought first of Wendell L. Willkie runs into three or four figures.

There probably never will be any knowing, to much of a certainty, just who suggested him initially as a Republican presidential suitability. However, it's beginning to be generally accepted that Oren Root, Jr., a great-nephew of Elihu Root of senatorial and cabinet fame, was responsible for the inflation of the G. O. P. nominee's sure-enough boom.

Root is a New Yorker prominently identified with Manhattan's big public utilities. He's a business neighbor of Wendell's, has known him well for a long time and evidently thought highly of his abilities, as all who are closely acquainted with him do. He also seems to have had an inkling that the ex-Hoosier had possibilities of exceptional popular appeal. It must be assumed that Oren is a rarely discerning individual. Nevertheless, someone was, anyway, and he may as well get credit for it as anybody else.

Be that as it may, he got the Willkie inspiration. Perhaps he evolved it out of his own inner consciousness. Perhaps some other chap furnished him with the hint. Which ever way it was, he grabbed at it.

He lit on the notion, too, that Wendell had the kind of personality calculated to make a hit with American youth—budding businessmen, young workers looking for pretty problematic jobs, the coming generation generally.

Root Worked Hard

Oren Root, Jr., set up headquarters in Washington, and toiled like a Trojan to get his brand of colts into a majority in the Republican Old Guard's stables throughout the country.

The result at Philadelphia spoke for itself.

The Old Guard aggregation simply was tramped on.

Jouett Shouse is referred to as having had something to do with pro-Willkie activities. It doesn't appear likely that he signified materially. That he originally was a Democrat, whereas this was a Republican convention, doesn't especially matter—because Jouett subsequently was an American Liberty Leaguer, which would entitle him to be any old thing, politically. But Jouett's method always has been to start at the partisan top and work downward; Oren Root, Jr., began at the bottom and worked upward.

Senator Charles L. McNary's Republican vice presidential candidacy is of no particular consequence.

Charley's Oregon origin is all right geographically. He's a long-time Republican senator. His leadership in the upper congressional chamber has been o. k. There's nothing the matter with his. He's a good farmerite, to balance Willkie as a businessman. But he can't be much of a campaigner.

Oh, well! Except in some exceptional situation (though heaven knows this is one) what does a vice presidential nominee amount to anyway?

In any event, McNary's perfunctory.

The Chairman

As these lines are written, it's a question who'll be the next Republican national chairman.

A good chairman is quite an important consideration. It usually is assumed that, if his side wins, he'll be postmaster general — like James A. Farley.

To date John D. M. Hamilton has been Republican chairman. Right off the reel, upon Willkie's nomination, it was assumed that John D. M. would continue. But just now it doesn't seem so certain. It was supposed that Hamilton would be chosen without any controversy. But (just as I'm writing) the selection has been postponed for awhile.

It'll be a few days, they say, before the pick will be made.

By that time all my readers will know who the guy is.

And then we'll have the Democratic convention on top of us.

QUESTIONING OLD AGE

"How did you live to be ninety, Sir?"
And seldom he makes reply,
"Now who can tell why one shall live
Any many another die?"

Forever he offers some trivial word.
Pertaining to drink or meat.
Or, "I managed to dodge all the driving fools
That clutter a city street."

Or, "I spared myself in the face of care
Went early the years to bed.
And here am I living and breathing still
While all of my friends lie dead."

But never the man himself nor sage
Shall fathom the reason why
To one is granted a long old age
While numberless others die.

Justified Perturbation

WASHINGTON, July 8.

SURVEYING the Washington scene after the nearly two months in which the Administration's preparedness program has been under way, detached and informed observers frankly are perturbed over Administration inability to bring order out of confusion. There are sound reasons for such a feeling.

THERE is no reflection upon the business men brought here by the President and charged with this vital work. They are doing as well as can be done under the circumstances. Nor is it because great results were expected in too short a time. Rather, apprehension is due to the fact that there has not emerged an organization which promises real results in any reasonable time or offers any guarantee against great waste and inefficiency. Nor is there any immediate prospect of such an organization. The root of the trouble is the lack of disinterested and intelligent leadership. As the facts are considered the conviction grows that the chief cause of confusion is that the President himself is confused. His friends say he is just tired. Certainly, his are not the qualities required for effective direction of so vast a practical program. Yet he will neither delegate the direction nor install a competent manager.

HE brings down men of proven ability and experience. It is reported that they have been given a "free hand" and are "very happy" over the situation. But every posted man knows that the "free-hand" stuff is a bluff. They have a "free hand" on everything except the vital things—to wit, policies. When what they want to do conflicts with a New Deal policy, or labor law, or an administration board, they cannot take a short cut. They cannot modify a law or relax a regulation. The President is on record against such short cuts, modifications and relaxations. Yet, obviously they are needed if results are to be had.

HE appealed for nonpartisan support and certainly got it from the Republicans in Congress, who voted solidly for the appropriations asked. Yet, despite his appointments of Messrs. Stimson and Knox, he keeps the defense program strictly a New Deal affair and appoints to draft a military conscription plan a rampant New Dealer, ardent third-termer and radical labor leader—Mr. Sidney Hillman—born in Russia and once a personal friend of Lenin. Some years ago Mr. Hillman organized a corporation here to raise capital for the economic benefit of the Soviet Union and collected considerable money for that purpose. Many who believe conscription desirable think the Hillman selection a mistake not obviated even by the naming of Mr. Owen D. Young as his aide. The idea of making Mr. Young the aide to Mr. Hillman seems so complete a reversal of their proper positions that it can be explained only by some queer notion of political expediency. There is no other way to account for such an absurd setup. As for the financial phase of the defense program, that is so amazing as to defy explanation.

ALREADY the President has asked Congress to appropriate fourteen billions. It is not only that no coherent and comprehensive plans for

State Factbook To Be Compiled

Encyclopedia Of Information On Pennsylvania To Be Prepared

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—Compilation of a Pennsylvania State Factbook, an encyclopedia of useful information on the state, will be the next major task of the WPA writers' program in the state.

Mrs. Florence Kerr, assistant comsioner of the WPA, announced today that publication of the State Guide Books was nearing completion and that WPA writers would next turn to production of highly condensed ready-reference volumes of historical, cultural and economic information concerning each state. These will be known as State Factbooks. Publication is anticipated in about a year.

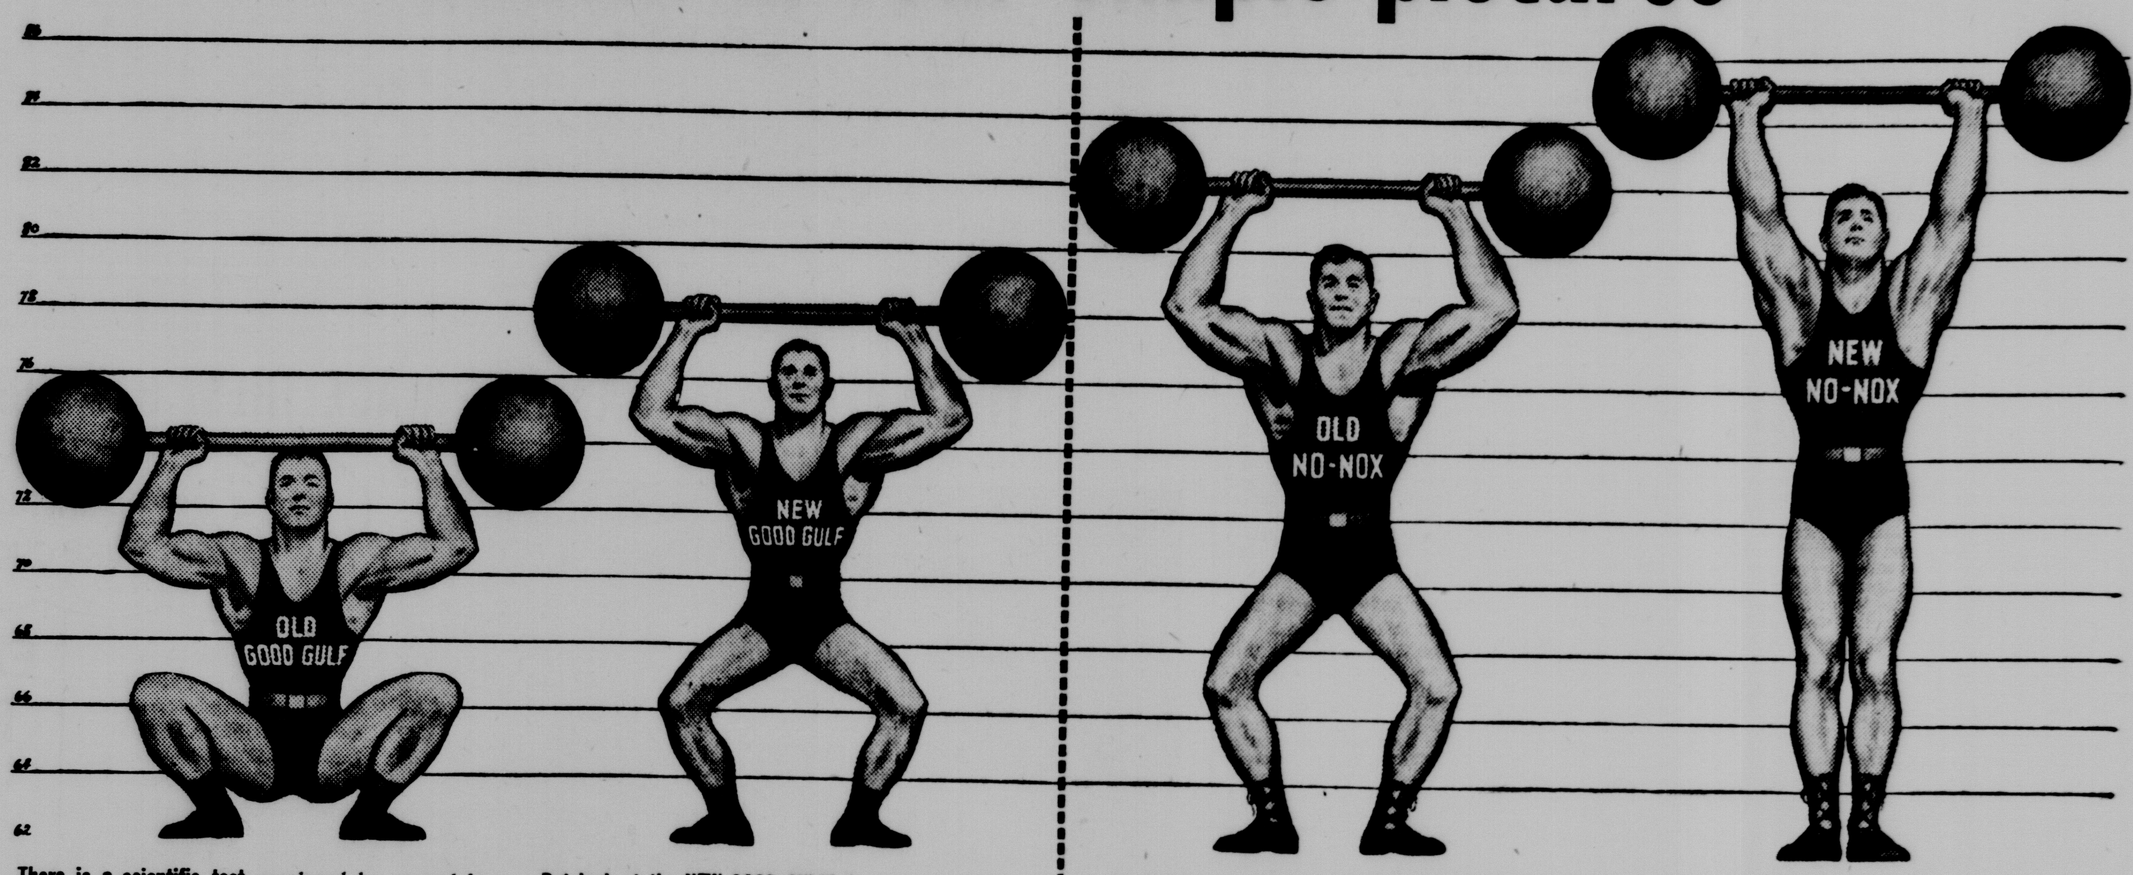

"The reception accorded the State Guides", said Mrs. Kerr, "has demonstrated a wide interest in books on the individual states. For more than a year, J. D. Newsom, national director of the WPA writers' program, has studied plans for a new series of books about the states. It is now clear that the predominant demand is for comprehensive, inexpensive factbooks, uniform in arrangement and of a type permitting frequent revision."

Mrs. Kerr said the factbooks would contain such complete information on all the states as has never before been assembled and would be of particular value to public officials, educators, librarians and editors.

In describing the new volumes, Mr. Newsom said they would contain as much factual material on the social, economic, political and cultural history of each state as can be condensed into books of practical size. Wherever possible, he said, material will be made current up to the time of publication and full use will be made of statistical data compiled by the census bureau and other federal and state agencies, he reported. Among the more important categories of information to be included in each volume, Mr. Newsom listed the following:

A detailed historical chronology. Summaries of the functions of state and federal agencies operating within each state. Lists of all incorporated communities with condensed data on the geography, population, transportation facilities, industries, governmental organizations, etc., of each. Brief biographies of governors and other outstanding public characters. Lists of museums and other centers of cultural activities. Addresses of headquarters of state-wide organizations.

Here's what's happened to Gulf Gasolines shown in four simple pictures

There is a scientific test, employed by us and by many of our competitors, that is used to determine the anti-knock value of a motor fuel. According to that test, the figure above represents the old GOOD GULF—famous as one of the finest regular gasolines in America!

But look at the NEW GOOD GULF! This is a fair comparative measurement of the tremendous improvement in this great gasoline. GOOD GULF is now enormously improved without a penny's added cost to you . . . will give superb performance in your modern, high-compression engine.

An equally sensational improvement has been made in GULF NO-NOX. This figure shows the rating of the old NO-NOX, then one of the super-fuels of its day and KNOCKPROOF under all normal driving conditions.

Now look at the NEW NO-NOX! Tremendously better than even the old NO-NOX . . . and far, far ahead of any regular gasoline sold anywhere in America today! NO REGULAR GASOLINE—NOT ONE—CAN COMPARE WITH GULF NO-NOX!

Better try these Better Fuels!

Lawrence, Butler And Beaver County Population Figures Given By Census Bureau

The 26th congressional district, embracing Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties, boasts a new population total of 341,360. Census figures show a gain of 14,560 since the 1930 count which registered 326,800 in the three counties.

Complete 1940 and 1930 totals were released by census authorities today. While they are "preliminary and subject to correction," most preliminary totals go unchanged.

The census figures show that Lawrence county has 26 political sub-divisions, Butler county 56 and Beaver county 53.

The population totals—listing the 1940 figures first and the 1930 report last—follow:

Name Mrs. Green Matron For Home

Mrs. Lida Green has been chosen as matron of the Margaret Henry Children's Home, to succeed the late Miss Margaret L. Henry, matron and founder of the home.

M. Feuchtwanger, president, states that the board of directors of the home were unanimous in their choice of Mrs. Green for the position, at their meeting at The Castleton hotel during the past week.

Mrs. Green has been connected with the home for the past eleven years, and was assistant to Miss Henry for ten years. During the last extended illness of Miss Henry, the former was practically in charge of the institution and its children.

The board of directors found that Mrs. Green had proven herself quite efficient as interim matron.

It was found that the home is in good condition, and that the children are being well cared for.

Jewish Group Plans Picnic Outing Soon

Free Loan Society Will Mark 30th Anniversary On July 14

The Hebrew Free Loan society of this city will hold its annual picnic at the Algoma camp Sunday, July 14. The picnic this year holds a special significance, as it celebrates the 30th anniversary of the society.

Proceeds will go for the redecorating of the Tifereth Israel synagogue. Dancing, swimming and a picnic dinner will be the main diversions of the day, with sport contests and games for young and old.

Committee in charge of the affair includes: M. Sigler, general chairman; P. Alpern, vice chairman, and the following aides: A. Katz, W. Markowitz, H. Scholsberg, J. Kulkin, N. Rosen, J. Alpern, H. Waldman, H. Pitnoff, G. Wolfe, J. Rosen, H. Rosenberg, I. Meyers, M. Samuels, S. Klein, E. Master, S. Wolfe and C. Cushner.

Gospel Tabernacle Conference Opens

There were large crowds in attendance at the three sessions of the fifth annual summer Bible conference which opened Sunday at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle on the East Side. Sessions were held in the morning, afternoon and evening.

Rev. Gordon G. Barry of Hudson Falls, N. Y., was guest speaker. During the evening service, Mr. Barry gave the first of his special conference series of messages on "The Names of Deity". He will be heard every night this week at 7:30 o'clock and three times next Sunday.

Maine is the only state in the Union which does not touch more than one state.

Rob Gas Station Of $27.38 In Cash

Milsom Attendant Finds Forced Window As He Opens Up Sunday

The William Milsom Co. service station at 1416 Moravia street was robbed of $27.38 in cash over the week-end.

City Detective John C. Young and Acting Detective Robert D. Hanna, answering a call to the station Sunday morning at 7, found a rear window had been forced and learned that the cash, secreted in a hiding place inside, was gone.

The station attendant, Jack W. Cole, 24, 118½ East Long avenue, told police he believed someone familiar with the station must have taken it because it had been carefully hidden away at closing time Saturday night. Nothing else was disturbed.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

STAKE TOMATOES OR NOT THAT IS THE QUESTION

Should tomatoes in the home garden be allowed to grow naturally or should they be staked and pruned for best results?

This question is in the hands of Lawrence County gardeners at this time.

In farm gardens where space is available and time is limited, the best procedure for obtaining a good crop with the least work is as follows:

Set the plants at least 4 feet apart either in a single row or a bed. Practice clean cultivation for about a month until about July 1 and then mulch with straw or other material about the time fruit sets.

The mulch serves best when it covers the ground completely to a depth of 6 to 8 inches when loose and 3 to 4 inches when settled. From this point there will be no labor except picking. Weeds and cultivation will be eliminated. Straw will provide a fine resting place for ripening, and moisture will be conserved during dry periods.

In town gardens where space is scarce, tomatoes may be pruned and tied to stakes. Set the plants 2 feet apart in rows 2½ to 3 feet apart. Provide stakes 5 feet high above the soil surface. Begin prunning about the time the first cluster is in bloom by pinching or cutting out all side branches or suckers that grow from the axil of each leaf (the angle between the left and the stem.) Tie the main plant to the stake with a soft twine.

Tie and prune each week or as often as necessary. Small holes bored in the stake will help support the heavy plant. The two-stem method is preferred to the single stem method. The second stem or leader is formed by allowing the side branch or sucker immediately below the first blossom cluster to grow, and removing all other side branches as the plant grows.

Tomatoes pruned to a single stem produce about 6 or 7 clusters of tomatoes while those pruned to two stems produce 11 or 12 clusters.

Yield per plant is greatest when the plants are not pruned, but more tomatoes are grown on a small area by pruning and staking although three or four times as many plants are used.

The method to use, therefore, depends upon conditions.

SAFEGUARD CHILDREN'S HEALTH DURING SUMMER

School is over for children, which means freedom from books, hours and routine. However, summer time is no free time for most mothers in Lawrence county. With routine upset, many mothers wonder if cod liver oil and hot cereals should be omitted during vacation.

Cod liver oil, a good source of vitamins A and D, need not be omitted during the summer any more than butter and other fats, Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative, points out. Children having the advantages of outdoor play in the sunshine are able to store vitamin D. Even so, to take care of smoke, dust and fog which prevents the body using D, it is wise to continue cod liver oil during the summer. Store the oil in a cool place and cork it tightly for best results.

Hot cooked cereals are just as nourishing in summer as in winter, she says. Vacation days mean extra energy is needed by most children for their added play hours. Cereals are an excellent way, especially if you choose whole grain types, of supplying this added need to the children's diet.

Quick-ccoked hot cereals with plenty of cold milk are satisfying, promote good digestion, and are cheaper than the ready-cooked brands.

Durnig the summer give the children liberal amounts of milk, fruits and vegetables. Raw fruits and vegetables, served cold, are appetizing to young and old. Summertime means an increased need for minerals because of perspiration loss, and fruits and vegetables help to supply these minerals.

Sun baths, like everything else, can be easily over-done. Babies and toddlers are best if exposed before 10 o'clock in the morning and after four o'clock in the afternoon. Older children should wear hats and should not be out during the heat of the day. Wrong exposure to the sun causes children to be irritable and may lead to fever and even sunstroke.

Govern the amount of exercise and play your children have by their general health, suggests Miss Markle. If they sleep well, eat well, grow well, and are gaining weight, you need not worry. Unless loss of weight, nervousness and lack of appetite should be a signal that children need more rest and less strenuous play.

Vacation may mean children are getting less sleep, as much as two to three hours. Eight hours or more of sleep the year round is a good rule to follow. Continue naps for the little folks. Naps also are beneficial to older children. Many a cross and disagreeable child is the result of too few hours of sleep.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION TO TAKE ANNUAL TOUR

A tour for the Pennsylvania State Poultry association is scheduled for August 21 and 22.

Prominent poultry plants in Delaware and Maryland will be visited. Each stop will give opportunity to observe some important practices or kinds of equipment in use. Breeding, hatching and roaster and broiler production will be seen by the touring poultrymen. They also will see processing plants, turkey growing in confinement, and large acreages of fruits and vegetables.

RYEGRASS SEED AMPLE FOR COVER CROP USE

Farmers planning to sow domestic ryegrass usually can depend on an ample supply of feed.

Oregon grows thousands of acres of ryegrass for seed. The seed seems to be pure, the germination generally good and there is no danger of the grass becoming a weed if plowed under cleanly.

For those who like to sow crimson or sweet clover as a cover crop, the addition of 10 or 15 pounds of ryegrass an acre is recommended to help prevent heaving and winter killing and to give better and surer ground cover and root growth.

Since rye can be sown much later than ryegrass the grain is recommended instead of ryegrass for seeding after September 1 in northern Pennsylvania counties and after October 1 in southern counties. Rye sown at the last cultivation generally rusts badly and often makes too large early spring growth, and too little rot development to be the ideal cover crop. Ryegrass makes several times as much root growth as rye.

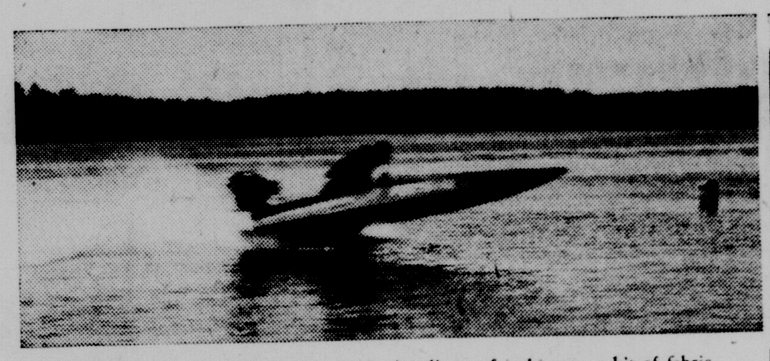

In moist weather ryegrass seed needs no covering but generally a light covering is advisable. Deep covering on heavy soils is not advisable. Deep covering on heavy soils is not advisable. The seed can be sown with a good cyclone seeder.

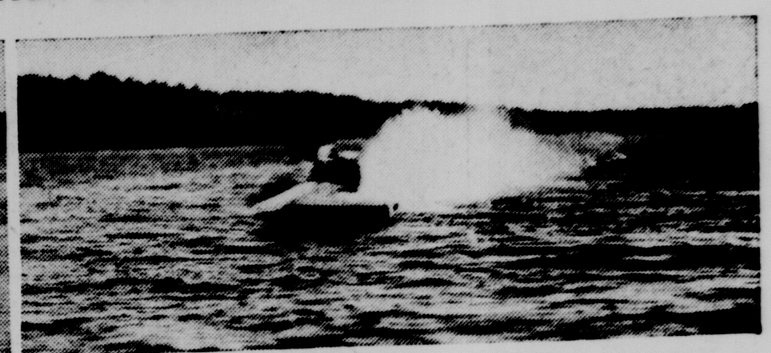

Ryegrass also has a place in the home garden. If sown at the last cultivation or after harvesting vegetables, it will make the garden look more like a lawn, and less like an eyesore over winter. When the ryegrass is spaded in, it improves the soil condition and makes liberal manuring much less necessary.

Dairymen and sheepmen are interested in the possibilities of ryegrass cover crops for late fall and early spring pastures. The grass is palatable and nutritious and if not pastured too hard in the fall it should make good grazing until midsummer.

EXTRA SKILL AND EXTRA DARING MADE CLINTON FERGUSON AMERICA'S NO.1 OUTBOARD CHAMPION

BOMBSHELL! That's his name for it. A splinter of mahogany, a bit of fabric, varnish...why, it's nothing but a shell with a motor. But when Clinton Ferguson clamps down the throttle of that motor, you've got the fastest combination in outboarding today. Speed? More than that. Speed plus—plus one man's uncanny ability to wheedle and squeeze just a few extra miles per hour out of four cylinders and a propellet. Yes, it's the extras that win—even in cigarettes.

LEAN, WIRY, 135 pounds of nerve and driving skill. Hunched in that tiny pit—one hand on the wheel, the other on the throttle—he roars across the surface in a frothing skid against time. Half in, half out of the water, Clinton Ferguson never lets up. Turns? He takes them wide open...throws himself around...with a daring equaled only by the extra skill of his steering hand. Boats, drivers—cigarettes—it's the extras that set them apart...like the extra mildness of Camels.

SMOKERS: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX

Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See panel at right.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

THE "EXTRAS" of costlier, slower-burning tobaccos have made Camels the No. 1 cigarette in the field. And the explanation of these extras in Camels is just as scientific as it is logical. Too-fast burning in a cigarette creates excess heat. Excess heat ruins the delicate elements of mildness and flavor. Slower burning preserves flavor and aroma...naturally gives a cooler smoke. Camels, with their costlier tobaccos, give you extras that you won't find in any other cigarette—even a slower way of burning that means extra smoking per pack (see panel at right).

Democracy is the ideal system for a country so rich that waste and carelessness don't matter.

Commission Denies Pennsy Application

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 8—The Public Utility Commission today denied a petition of the Pennsylvania Railroad company asking the commission to depart from its established practice of placing responsibility for payment of property damages in grade crossing cases on one party instead of two or more.

In denying the application, the commission pointed out that to "require two or more parties to make direct payment of compensation for damages to property owners would result in confusion and be unsatisfactory, particularly from the owners' viewpoint."

Say one thing for dictators: They didn't threaten and make promises and talk tough 'till they were equipped for trouble.

ST. VITUS CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

Before an altar embanked with palms and ferns in St. Vitus church, Miss Fannie Pascarella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pascarella of 816½ South Jefferson street, became the bride of Anthony A. Marr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marr of Struthers, O., Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Abbate officiated, using the single ring service, in the presence of a host of friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a white velva-rae brocaded gown, princess style, made entrain. Her long veil was caught in a peaked crown of rhinestones and pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of lilies and orchids. As her only jewelry she wore a gold cross, a gift of the groom.

Miss Bernice Dellaverson, as maid of honor, wore an Alice Blue gown, stylder similar to the bride's, with pink accessories. Her bouquet was of pink tea roses. Frank Marr, a cousin of the bridegroom from Donora, Pa., was best man.

Bridesmaids, Mary Pascarella, Mary Sant, Daisy Weir and Antoinette Constantino, all wore pink gowns with blue accessories and carried Johanna Hill roses. Ushering were Petro Marr, Gabriel Pascarella (twin brother of the bride), Rex Coandle and James Gentile. Little Carmelina Pagley, niece of the bride, as veil carrier, was attired in pink, and Ronnie Galucci, nephew of the bride, as ring bearer, wore a white satin suit.

A wedding dinner was served to guests in the marine dining hall in Youngstown, and in the evening a reception was held in St. Anthony's hall in Struthers.

Mr. and Mrs. Marr departed later on a wedding trip through the eastern states. For traveling the bride wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of orchids.

Upon their return they will reside at 224 Center street, in Struthers, O. The bride is a graduate of the local high school in the January class of 1940. Mr. Marr is employed at the Sharon Steel company in Lowellville, O.

Vesper Service At Scout Camp

Pioneering Projects Launched Second Day At Camp John M. Phillips

Opening day at Lawrence county Boy Scout camp, Camp John M. Phillips, Saturday, saw boys from New Brighton, Bessemer, Mt. Jackson and New Castle invading the camp ready to make their home in the outdoors for the next week or more.

With warm weather making swimming possible, great stress was placed upon waterfront activities the first day. Sunday several pioneering projects were launched, to be carried through the four scouting weeks.

Sunday evening parents and friends of the scouts gathered in the natural amphi-theatre, along the beautiful Slippery Rock creek, and attended a camp vesper service. Bill Klee, activities director, was in charge of the impressive program.

Nick Casillo, camp director, was busy getting the boys all happily settled in camp, while Robert McConaghy, handicraft director, assigned various projects and aided in getting them started. John Senko was in charge of natural lodge, and Harvey Miller controlled the waterfront activities. John J. Finnessy, county executive, was on hand to see that the camp season was launched without a hitch.

Aunt Of Local Resident Dies

Mrs. Gilbert James of John street, has received word of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Eliza Jane Ball, of Oakland avenue, in Pittsburgh, who died Saturday morning, at 9:45 o'clock, in the Mercy hospital, following a long illness.

Mrs. Ball, the daughter of James and Myra Murphy, pioneer residents of Lawrence county, was born 82 years ago near Edenburg. She was the last of 13 children.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, William M. Ball, a former resident of this city, three daughters, Mrs. Maggie Rutherford, of Scottdale, Mrs. Amelia Watson, of McKees Rocks, and Mrs. Minnie Hynes, of Pittsburgh; Thomas Ball of Pittsburgh and James Ball of Bloomfield. Twenty-two grandchildren survive and also a number of great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews, of this city.

DENTZLERS ANNIVERSARY

Today, marks the thirty-second wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell C. Dantzler, who are quietly celebrating the occasion at their home on West Grant street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dantzler have been residents of New Castle for the past twenty years, and have always taken an active part in community affairs. They have a host of friends who will read with interest of the event, whom they will receive informally at their home. Mr. Dantzler has been a mill workers for the past twenty-one years here.

About the only thing yet to be decided is whether we'll have a noble motive or do it to save our own skins.

The Great Game Of Politics

spending so vast a sum have been mde, but there is the unreasonableness of asking Congress to appropriate billions which cannot be used for many years to come. It is difficult not to believe additional billions at this time is political. The Democratic Convention is just ahead. Mr. Roosevelt seems the inevitable candidate. Much of the excuse for a third-term effort has disappeared. Only by creating a feeling that Mr. Roosevelt must remain in order to carry out the gigantic defense program and meet a great emergency can the attempt to break the tradition appeal reasonably justified. Belief that the President is not dealing with this business in the nonpartisan spirit he urges in others is strengthened by his strange course on the matter of taxation and retrenchment.

FIRST, he asked a two-billion appropriation, casually saying that the question of taxes could be taken up later and suggesting that Congress adjourn. Then he acquiesced in the inadequate and hastily thrown together tax bill initiated by Congress with no encouragement from him. Third, he used his personal influence to kill Senator Byrd's proposal to cut Governmental expenditures ten per cent, although he sad said he was making a survey with that in view. Finally, he now advocates the immediate enactment of an excise profit tax, which his own Treasury officials say cannot be intelligently prepared in sixty days. Congress hardly could enact such a tax before the campaign ends and the expert opinion is that if enacted, it would slow down the very industrial production we are trying to speed up.

OBVIOUSLY, it is a political gesture. Understood clearly, what has happened in the last two weeks is depressing, indeed, to a people anxious to achieve adequate defense in the shortest possible time at minimum cost. It is a record of confusion and incompetency. But what else can be expected with the head of the nation an almost open candidate to succeed himself, and compelled to consider and conciliate the pressure groups. Unquestionably, it is a national tragedy that an election looms in which the President has a personal stake.

Mayor Continues War On Wedding Party Horn-Honkers

Mayor Charles B. Mayne rode the runningboard of a commandeered auto for several miles Saturday as he ordered its driver to give chase to a large party of Ohio-bound wedding horn-honkers.

And this morning the driver of the car he enlisted for the pursuit paid a $25 fine in the city police court because, as the mayor said, "He wasn't as co-operative on the chase as he might have been." The charge against him was disorderly conduct.

The driver, Frank Marr, 21, 101 Ridgeway street, Struthers, O., one of the wedding celebrators, was taken into custody by the mayor Saturday and released late at night on a $100 property bond.

Marr sat in city hall for some hours, waiting for friends to arrange his bond. Police Chief Willis G. McMullen said some of his friends brought him part of the wedding cake with his evening meal.

A stern lecture it was Marr received from the mayor today.

"You can go out and tell all wedding parties that they'd better arrange to have $100 ready for fines in the future if they want to include the noisy horn-blowing ceremonies," the mayor told Marr.

"I've had enough. I could put all kinds of charges against you, for you were a real disturbance. You didn't help much, and deliberately delayed the car because you wanted the others to get away.

"Well, it looks like you're the goat. I thought if you brought those friends in, we'd make other arrangements. But here you are—I think $25 will sting you as much as $100, so it will be $25 or 30 days in the county jail."

The mayor said he jumped on Marr's runningboard on South Jefferson street and stayed on it until the party was well out in Union township along Route 422.

"If this keeps up," the city's chief executive warned, "I'll get a bride and groom one of these times, too."

The mayor made it clear he has no intention of spoiling wedding fun, but he also gave strong indication he has no intention of passing up loud and unnecessary downtown demonstrations.

"You couldn't have heard the siren of an ambulance or a fire engine with all that racket Saturday," the mayor said.

Doug Fairbanks, Jr., Offers To Help 60 Refugee Children

Will Provide For Their Keep In Canada And Also In United States

By HARRISON CARROLL
(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, July 8. — Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who recently became the father of a baby girl, will help to rescue 60 English orphans from the horrors of air raids and the threatened invasion of their native land.

The film star, now working at the Columbia Studio in the picture, "Before I Die," has arranged to assume full responsibility for the youngsters upon their arrival in Canada, it was revealed today.

In other words, he guarantees that the youthful refugees will not become public charges when they are brought from Canada to havens in the United States.

Young Fairbanks, who has spent many years of his life in England, also will open his Beverly Hils home to three children of personal friends.

Later on, said the actor, he and his wife hope to be able to shelter even more youngsters on a farm owned by Mrs. Fairbanks in Virginia.

Rural Churches Unite On Sunday

Shenango Township District Churches Have First Of Series Of Union Services

Last night, Calvary Presbyterian church in East New Castle was crowded to the doors with worshippers who came from the churches of Shenango Township.

This auspicious beginning promises well for the union service lasting through the summer.

Rev. T. G. Berger of Slippery Rock Presbyterian church preached on the "Fatherhood of God," a powerful sermon.

S. W. McCullough sang a solo. Ministers Eckert, Wallace, Gray, Shaffer and Holmes took various parts of the service.

The next meeting will be at Savannah M. E. church. Rev. W. J. Holmes will preach the sermon.

Rev. McIlvaine Speaks At Park

McKinney Bible Class And Chorus Assist In Union Service Sunday Evening

The second of the Sunday evening union services sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association was held in the Community house, Cascade Park, last night to a congregation which filled all the house with the exception of the side balconies.

The service was conducted by the Rev. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who was asisted by members of the McKinney Bible class. The men's chorus of the Bible class also rendered several selections. The topic of Rev. Mr. McIlvaine's sermon was based on the Scripture text, "None of Us Liveth to Himself, and No Man Dieth to Himself." He stated that for Christians the most important thing in all the world is human personality of which there is no greater power, and that all history is a story of great personalities; that while Christianity had a definite creed and a code of ethics, still the heart of Christianity is a unique, majestic Man, Christ Jesus. He stressed the fact that our influence, whether little or great, goes out farther than we know; that what we are speaks louder than what we say, and people see in us light or darkness, good or bad. We cannot be neutral in our influence;; we cannot be neutral in our Christianity, if we are not with God then we must be against Him. It has been said that God wrote three books: the Book of Nature, the Bible, and Christian Personality. Our responsibility is to use our Christian Personality in such a manner that our influence will live after us for good.

The service next Sunday evening will be in charge of the Rev. F. E. Stough of St. John's Evangelical church, and the preacher will be the Rev. George W. Stough of the Lutheran church, Wilkinsburg.

St. Mary's Group Enjoys Breakfast

Event Is Held By Sodality At The Castleton Sunday Morning After Receiving Communion

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, members of the Young Ladies Sodality, of St. Mary's church, numbering 75, held their annual communion breakfast at The Castleton.

The group received Holy communion at the 7 o'clock mass, at the church, with Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterson as celebrant.

President, Mary Alice Carey welcomed the group, and introduced the principal speaker, The Rev. Fr. Raymond A. Must, who gave an interesting talk. Father Must was presented with an ordination gift from the Sodality.

In honor of the 15th ordination anniversary of Father Watterson, which is being observed today, the Sodality also presented him with a gift. Father Watterson responded graciously.

The event proved successful due to the untiring work of the chairlady, Helen Maher, and her assistants were: Rose Mary Schooley, Marvena Stenger, Patricia Maher, Catherine Nugent, Madge Shriver, Kathleen Maher, Kathleen Schooley, Rita Rieg, Carol Boyd and Susanna Flynn.

Special guests included Rev. Fr. R. A. Must and Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterson.

Friday, August 2, is the date for the next meeting, in St. Mary's hall at 8 o'clock.

Police Send Girls Back To Homes At New Brighton

Two teen-age New Brighton girls who roamed from their valley homes last Friday, were back with their parents today, and New Castle police can be given credit for their return.

Officer Cecil F. Suber spotted one of the youngsters near the Oak street school and called a scout car to take her to the police station. The girl said a younger companion was at a home here.

New Brighton police, contacting the parents at the request of the local department, asked that they be sent home by train.

Church Sodality Enjoys Picnic

St. Joseph's Sodality Picnic Event At Slippery Rock Beach On Sunday

Approximately 40 members were present at the Young Ladies' Sodality picnic, of St. Joseph's church, held at a Slippery Rock beach, Sunday afternoon.

Various diversions of swimming and games were enjoyed by the group.

At 5:30 o'clock, a delicious picnic super was served on long tables. Miss Virginia Doone was the chairlady of the picnic and she was assisted by Agnes Benzick and Betty Haas. The event was a success due to the cooperation of the committee and the Sodality members.

On Tuesday evening the glee club of the Sodality will meet in the club's rooms, at 8 o'clock.

French Embassy To Quit London

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 8. — Diplomatic steps to effect the severance of relations between the Petain government of France and the British government have now been taken in London, it was learned tonight.

The French charge D'Affaires, the Marquis De Castellane, called at the foreign office to state that the French embassy is being withdrawn.

The decision to break off relations with Great Britain was made by the French government following the Anglo-French naval battle in the Mediterranean last week.

HOW TO GET A $100 LOAN WITHOUT ENDORSERS

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $6.97 a month—See table for other loan plans—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, friendly service.

YOU can get a personal loan —without red tape or delay —if you can repay in small monthly installments. All you do to apply for a loan at Household is to acquaint us with your problem. You need no bankable security—no endorsers or guarantors.

You may repay your loan on any of the schedules shown in the table below. Thus you may choose the payment plan which best fits your own needs and income.

Payments to fit your purse

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.75 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month for eighteen months will also repay a $100 loan.

You will note that the sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.58 each, or a total of only $106.32, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full.

CASH LOAN YOU GET	AMOUNT YOU PAY BACK EACH MONTH Including All Charges

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

R. E. Henderson, President

Simple to borrow

You get your Household Finance loan in a simple, private transaction. We require no stocks or bonds, no salary or wage assignment. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) You are spared the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And no questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives.

Considerate treatment

You may expect every consideration in case of sickness or unemployment while paying on a Household Finance loan. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans. This action was taken only as protection against fraud.

If a loan can help you, phone or visit us for further information. No obligation.

Gungirl Held

Myrtle Hinkle McCray, 23, of Roanoke, Va., is pictured on her way to the police station in New York, where she was charged with assault, robbery and possession of a gun. Two Massachusetts visitors to the World's Fair said after having a drink in their hotel room, she later returned and robbed them at the point of a gun.

Aristocrat Refugees

Bombs make no distinction between aristocrats and commoners, so these children were sent to America. They are Davina Bowes-Lyon, 10, and her brother Simon, 8, niece and nephew of the British Queen, shown arriving at New York, enroute to the Charlottesville, Va., estate of J. P. Morgan, a close friend of the British royal family.

Boiler Production Halted By Strike

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., July 8.—Production of boilers for the United States battle fleet remained at a standstill today while 200 AFL union pickets marched around the gates of the Babcock & Wilcox Co., in nearby Barberton.

The strike was called yesterday when a 24 hour ultimatum to the company for higher wages and a more liberal vacation setup was refused, Walter J. Mason, union spokesman said.

Between 1,800 and 1,900 men, 90 per cent of the total force, are on strike, Mason declared, and only a few workmen remained inside.

News Briefs From City Hall

Request of Ernest M. Crawford, owner-manager of New Castle's new motor coach terminal at North Jefferson and North streets, for permission of council to erect a Western Union curb sign at the depot, was referred to the City Engineer Glenn R. Throop today. He'll report his opinion at Thursday's regular council session. Crawford's depot is night headquarters for the wire organization.

While not feeling too well—for several days he was confined to his Court street home—Councilman William H. Dunlap was in his chair at today's morning council meeting. "The next business is to see the Doc again," he told colleagues after adjournment.

Medical examinations were given by army doctors today to a large group of Civilian Conservation Corps recruits in the third floor hall of the city building. James W. Moorehead, director of selection for the CCC boys in this county, was present. Others will be examined later. Those approved will leave for assigned camps shortly.

WE NEED DEFENSES

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The United States is not prepared to resist an invading army, in the opinion of former Congressman Ira W. Drew of Philadelphia.

Addressing the annual convention of the Reciprocity Clubs of America, Drew said this country needs a military organization that can deal with a surprise raiding force. The U. S. Army does not have one complete division assembled at any training post while European powers "maintained peace time armies of 30 to 50 divisions," Drew charged.

REALLY A PLEASURE TO TELL OF RHEUMATIC PAIN RELIEF

Praises RUX Compound For Its Fine Actions

(Mr. Leonard DeWitt, life long resident of New Florence, Pa., says it is really a pleasure for him to tell others about RUX and the relief he obtained with it.)

"Why I got so tired of feeling bad from these pains, that I almost forgot how good a person could feel when they are relieved. I used to dread going to bed some nights, because I would almost know that the pains would prevent me from getting a good night's rest.

"Then I saw RUX Compound advertised and after hearing others praise it, I began to take it myself. Believe me, I'm sure not sorry that I did for RUX relieves the pains so that I am able to get more restful sleep and also don't have to stop and think about the pains before climbing stairs like I did before and now I'm looking forward to a lot of good fishing this summer."

Make Your Test Today!

Don't suffer another day without giving RUX a trial. Get relief for yourself as so many others are doing. RUX comes in three convenient sizes. So don't put it off. Come today to our store—get a bottle of RUX for Rheumatic, Neuritic, Neuralgic Pains and start taking it.

Correspondents Make Flight In Bomber

(Editor's note: A dramatic flight by a group of American and British newspaper correspondents in a bomber of England's "invasion patrol" is related herewith).

By MERRILL MUELLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 8.—I have just returned from a flight in an American-made British bomber over the tougest portion of England's "invasion patrol," stretching from the top of Norway to the bottom of France.

With a mixed group of American and British journalists, I boarded the Lockheed bomber at (censored) airport and we flew on a reconnaissance over the channel and the North Sea while other units of the "invasion patrol" were out elsewhere, bombing fighting or convoying.

With the Royal Air Force American aircraft have earned their war colors and the R.A.F. is extremely pleased with the planes marked "made in America."

The plane in which we newspapermen flew was originally an air liner, but the R.A.F. had transformed it into a reconnaissance-fighter-bomber. This type of plane has the highest score of victories against the Nazis, except for the Hurricane and Spitfire fighters. Likewise, it has one of the highest percentages for bombing accuracy.

As we flew over the lovely rolling countryside and swung out over a lightship, one of the R.A.F. officers came back to us and tipped us off to the "tricks" of air fighting in one of these huge planes.

He showed us what he described as "the loneliest spot in the world"—the heavy power turret in the tail of the plane, equipped with muti-machine guns where a lone gunner sits. And gunners from these positions have proven the scourage of the German air force, he told us.

"If we're jumped by a Nazi plane, we just dive down close to the top of the waves to protect the belly of our plane and prevent any Germans from zooming down under us," the R.A.F. officer explained nonchalantly.

Our flight was uneventful, but these "invasion patrol" fliers have been seeing plenty of action, coming in with their planes shot to shreds, repairing them and taking off again for more sky work.

It is upon these fliers of the "invasion patrol" that the people of Britain depend for warning. These boys must spot the oncoming invasion and sound the alarm.

After they've given the alarm there's going to be a first class scrap, and the "invasion patrol" will be right in the thick of it.

British Vets Pledge Support

Will Help Preserve Democracy Of America With All Means At Their Disposal

Members of Edith Cavell Post No. 2, British Empire War Veterans Association, of the Beaver Valley, which includes local British veterans in its membership has pledged their world possessions and even their lives, in defense of the United States, their adopted country, and have offered undivided support to the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the government, in unearthing and exposing any and every form of Fifth Column activities.

This action was taken at the last meeting of the post, and copies of the resolution of this action have been placed in the hands of the various organizations affected.

Injuries Fatal To New Galilee Youth

Dies In Beaver Falls Hospital Sunday After Being Struck By Truck While Cycling

Injuries sustained when hit by a truck while riding a bicycle on the New Galilee-Darlington road, near Darlington Lake last Friday afternoon proved fatal to Eugene Wayne Gray, 18-year-old New Galilee youth, who passed away in the Providence hospital, Beaver Falls, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Eugene, and ten-year-old Harry Fry, also of New Galilee, were returning from a fishing trip, the Fry boy riding the handlebars when the accident occurred at about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Fry escaped with only slight injuries. The truck was reported to have been driven by Emerson Frederick of Beaver Falls.

Eugene, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Gray, New Galilee, was a high school graduate and was well-known and well-liked in his community. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church at New Galilee.

In addition to his parents, he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Jack Swick of New Galilee, Elaine and Virginia Lee, at home; his grandmother, Mrs. E. S. Short, and grandfather, B. L. Gray, both of New Galilee.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late home Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock (E.S.T.) with Rev. W. W. Willis, his pastor, officiating. Interment will be in White church cemetery, New Galilee.

Gentleman Farmer Fatally Burned

Fire Destroys $100,000 Mansion, Victim Admits Setting Fire To Own Home

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., July 8.—Wayne Farrow, 34-year-old gentleman farmer, died today in a West Chester hospital of burns suffered when fire destroyed his $100,000 mansion at nearby Marshallton Sunday.

State troopers said Farrow, who once attended U. S. Naval Academy, admitted he set fire to the rambling house following a quarrel with his wife. Police earlier had expressed surprise that flames apparently started in several different sections of the dwelling simultaneously.

Farrow's two daughters, aged four and two, were carried from the house by neighbors minutes before flames swept a second-floor room in which they had been trapped. The father, who apparently had run from the burning home, was found unconscious on the ground in a badly burned state.

Farrow was to have had a hearing today on assault and battery charges preferred by his wife, Edith, 29, last Saturday.

It is a cheap form of patriotism that yearns to beat up suspected "German sympathizers." You never see it give a dollar to help Hitler's victims.

Not to Congress: If you need billions to buy weapons, we need men to use them. Do you think we can draft, quarter and train soldiers the day after the weapons are ready?

Taxes seem to violate our whole American system. They constitute the only economic problem the family can't solve by saying: "Charge it, please."

The Nazis will live down much, but not the return to Norway and the bombing of homes that welcomed them when they were hungry children.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

RULES OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

The Dionne Quintuplets have gotten together, and drawn up a set of rules for their conduct in the nursery. They did it of their own free will, although I must admit the rules they have set up, are basically what we have been trying to teach the five of them for the last six years. I must also say that their rules are a source of great satisfaction to us all for it shows that the children have been learning the lessons we have sought to teach.

The idea of children six years old having the wisdom to adopt conduct rules for themselves may sound strange to some of you. But we have always encouraged the Quins to think for themselves. Children would do a great deal more "self-policing" if parents or elders encouraged them to think and to develop self-reliance. Too many parents never give their young children a chance to think.

There are eight rules in Quins' "code." The children chose them after careful discussion, with frequent appeals to me and the nurses. Some of them overlap naturally, for the Quins aren't very precise in their use of language yet. Nevertheless their intent is clear, and I wish a lot of grownups had as much consciousness of social rights.

The first rule chosen was "Always share things." I believe it was Marie, gentle little Marie, who first picked this one. That one rule, by itself, summaries most of the other rules. The second rule is "Politeness all the time." (I am trying, as best I can, to follow the Quins own wording in French). This was Cecile's contribution to the communal set of laws. I would have known this, I think, even if Nurse Dubeau hadn't told me. I suppose you can say that these first two rules are almost synonymous. Still, I think there is room in your code of ethics and mine, as well as the Quins', for both of these. They don't contradict each other.

I'm not sure which of the five youngsters sponsored the third rule: "Never ask to do a message just because another Quin has a message to do," but I suspect it was Emilie who proposed it. It sounds like her.

If you haven't been following the stories of the Quins, you might be a bit puzzled by this. The children love to help around the nursery. They have been taught that work—helping—is the thing. For example, drying the dishes is considered a big treat by the Quins. Consequently, when one of the five is chosen to do a message, the others may feel disappointed. This rule is intended apparently, to take care of this situation.

I shall have more to tell you about the Quins' rules tomorrow.

Fish At Pymatuning Filmed In Newsreel

GREENVILLE, Pa., July 8.—Hunger-crazed fish at Pymatuning Dam spillway, north of here, are in for more nation-wide publicity.

Newsreel cameramen recently caught pictures of the unusual sight of ducks walking on the mass of fish congregating at the spillway while spectators throw bread into the water. The "shot" was considered important enough for Lew Lehr, comedian, to add his comments.

Now local observers state the fish are doing a new stunt. They will eat bread from the hands of people. Clint Muntz local sportsman, said the fish will grab fingers when the hand is not withdrawn quickly. He added, however, the fish bites cause no injury.

But if military training is provided for all, some Senator will tack on an amendment providing that a boy thus trained shall fight only in his home town.

The average rates charged for fire insurance have decreased from $1.17 in 1907 to 67 cents in 1938.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Poor Annabelle Eckles all covered with freckles.

Annabelle had tried hard enough not to freckle.

She wanted to have a nut-brown tan like other girls.

But Annabelle tanned only in spots.

This was due to some hereditary peculiarity in her skin.

The pigment-forming cells were irregularly distributed.

Under the sun, irregular pigmentation took place.

Unhappily, for all frecklers, they are irremovable.

Freckles, like city relatives, come and stay all summer.

Freckles lie under the skin, sometimes far under.

To remove them would be dangerous and perhaps disfiguring.

Don't fret about freckles—but freckle filosophically.

District Scouters Meeting On Friday

There will be a meeting of the Scouters in the New Castle Boy Scout District Friday evening, July 12, at 6 o'clock, at Camp John M. Phillips.

The meeting will be in the form of a basket picnic, and wives and families of the members will be guests. Scouters will have an opportunity of seeing camp in actual operation.

As a part of the program, "The Story of the Navy," an interesting and educational movie film, will be shown.

Homer J. Houck to John D. Bockius, Shenango township, $1.

Samuel J. Baron to E. J. Connery, Second ward, $1.

There's a touch of conventionitis affecting the officials on the hill. The associations of the various office holders are planning their annual get togethers and for the most part the Lawrence county officers will attend.

The county commissioners convention will be held at Bedford Springs, September 10th to 13th. The county controller's convention will be held in Beaver, September 25, 26 and 27. The register and recorder's convention will be held in Pittsburgh, August 11, 12 and 13. The prothonotary and clerk of courts' convention will be held in Pottsville, July 18, 19 and 20. The sheriffs' convention will be held in Bethlehem July 22, 23 and 24.

The county treasurers haven't got around to holding conventions yet but the plans are in the making. An association has been formed and within a year or two they will probably have their convention.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar the following actions have been laid.

Mildred Brooks asks a divorce from her husband, Harl Brooks, on the grounds of indignities to person. Both are listed as residents of Lawrence county. They were married November 28, 1925.

Clair Charles Main, of North Sewickley, asks a divorce from his wife, Pauline Grace Main, on the grounds of indignities. They were married February 20, 1936.

Harry V. Keller of Ellwood City, asks a divorce from his wife, Edith May Keller, on the grounds of desertion. They were married May 13, 1918.

Employes in the permanent registration office are not permitted to suggest what party a voter should align himself with, nor do they do it. Recently a voter came in and asked to be registered. Asked what his party preference was he said, "which is the best one?"

The bonded indebtedness of the county was slashed again this month when $22,000 was paid on the principal of the highway bonds. The payment reduces the county's indebtedness to $397,000. At the same time interest in the amount of $7807.50 on highway bonds and $1192.50 on poor bonds, was paid.

Tax payments are coming in satisfactorily according to County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer. In addition payments are being made upon delinquencies. The result was a crowd in the county treasurer's office Saturday morning.

Continuing the account of expenditures for the month of June which were partially run Saturday the following figures are seen. The district attorney's office cost $1,028.71 divided as follows: District attorney's salary $318, assistant $209, county detective $272.50, stenographer $85, telephone $25.60, travelling expense $71.11, equipment $47.50.

Courts cost $2,624.77 divided as follows: Jury commissioners and clerk salary, $97.50. Tipstaves $256. Court crier $100, interpreter's wages $65. Court stenographers' salaries $350, transcripts, $249.99. Judge's stenographer's salary $75. Commonwealth witness $15. Traverse jurors' pay, $3. Grand jurors' pay $204.24. Petit jurors' pay $749.10. Jurors' lodging, $36.40. Viewers' pay $328.45 and a number of incidentals. Justices and aldermen $239.25.

Constables received $193.55. The probation and detention home cost $698.49 divided as follows, parole officer's salary $150, stenographer's salary $70, postage $85, stationary $12.42. Telephone $13.29. Travelling expense $126.05. Matron's salary $60, maintenance of children $66.50, general repairs and furnishings $60.18 and incidentals.

Penal institutions were paid $1,512.90. The county jail cost $779.44. Non-county institutions got $275.07. Maintenance of children cost $246.18. County superintendent of schools' office cost $98.65. Military contributions $266.25.

From the gasoline fund during June $831.52 was spent. Of this $556.52 was spent for bridge construction and reconstruction. For relocation of roads $275 was spent.

The sooner the government rounds up dangerous people, the less we'll be shamed by irresponsible vigilantes beating up innocent people.

U. S. Hunts Sender Of Fake Warship Attack Message

False Message Is Received Sunday

Purported To Be Flash From U. S. Warship Attacked By Submarine

STATE DEPARTMENT HAS ANXIOUS HOUR

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Monitor stations of the Federal Communications Commission—established to detect identity of senders of fake radio messages—were being contacted by F. C. C. Chairman James L. Fly today for a possible solution of the air wave hoax that made Americans believe a U. S. warship had been sunk by a German submarine.

As agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation also worked on the case, the Navy Department announced that it has double-checked the U. S. S. Barry, 1,200-ton destroyer carrying about 125 officers and crew, and that the vessel is secure in a neutral Spanish port.

It was shortly before 2 p. m. EST., yesterday that Mackay Radio picked up a wireless message stating that the Barry had been attacked by a German submarine 400 miles off the coast of Spain and was sinking.

It took the navy an anxious hour to determine the falsity of the message, but meanwhile there was feverish and anguished Sabbath activity in the capital.

Secretary of State Hull telephoned the reported news to President Roosevelt at Hyde Park. Admiral Harold Stark, chief of naval operations, rushed to the navy department to take charge of the effort to contact the Barry.

Declare Industry Of State Is Ready For Any Special Demand

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 8.—Pennsylvania industry today was declared ready to meet any emergency of peace or war in the interest of the nation.

"Pennsylvania's industries are fully prepared to aid the nation in the emergency created by the necessity of speed in preparation for national defense," Secretary of Commerce Richard P. Brown reported after a survey of the state's facilities.

"It is inevitable that Pennsylvania must play a leading part in any preparedness program of the United States," he said. "We have the heavy industries. We are the nation's greatest producer of iron, steel, zinc and other products so necessary in the manufacture of war materials. We are a leading state in cement, textiles, glass, oil refining, chemicals and shipbuilding. We have a strategic position on the Atlantic seaboard. We have the most easily defended port of the entire Atlantic coast (Philadelphia) because it is 88 miles inland.

"Modern warfare's dependence on mechanized equipment is certain to make Pennsylvania's industries the backbone of any plan for adequate national defense."

Pennsylvania "key industries" are "geared" to meet the present situation, said Brown. During the war, he pointed out Pennsylvania produced more than 42 per cent of the gun forgings made in the United States.

There are now six aviation plants in Pennsylvania, Brown disclosed. "One of them, a very large producer of private planes, has just doubled its capacity," he said. "Pennsylvania is ideally situated for the manufacture of airplane parts and assembly of airplanes . . . Pennsylvania is also an important producer of airplane motors."

Plan Additional Park Improvements

To Secure Additional Seats For Concert Goers In Mahoningtown Park

Additional improvements to the Liberty Street park, corner of Darlington avenue and North Liberty street, are being planned by the Seventh Ward Civic club. The repairs, according to Paul D. Weller, representing the club, will be made this week if possible.

Additional benches will be secured for the use of concert goers. Changes in the electrical system on the bandstand will be made and the bandstand will receive a fresh coat of paint.

It is thought that the work will be completed by Thursday night, when another WPA Civic orchestra concert will be presented.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Cherry pickers from the district have been busy for the past few days cleaning the district trees of their annual yield. The pickers get an early start in the morning for their job.

Repairs are being made to the Seventh Ward Progressive club ball field on South Ashland avenue. The high grass and weeds have been cut and the field put in first class condition.

A new flag has been secured and is displayed daily at the Crawford-Oakridge N. Y. A. Resident Center on Atlantic avenue. Although a flag pole is not available, the flag is being flown from a small mast erected on the hillside.

The Seventh Ward playground located on South Liberty street, is proving to be a popular place. Several hundred young people visit the playground daily.

Good Attendance At Union Service

Rev. D. J. Blasdell Delivers Sermon At Presbyterian Church

There was a good attendance at the Sunday evening union church service, held in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

Congregations of the Presbyterian, Mahoning Methodist and Madison Avenue Christian churches joined for the occasion.

Rev. D. J. Blasdell, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered the sermon and he was aided by Rev. John E. Myers, Jr., and Rev. Milton E. Shearer.

Service next Sunday evening will be in the Christian church with Mr. Myers preaching.

Bocce League Has Meeting Sunday

At a special meeting called by Nick Cangey, vice president of the Christopher Columbus society, members of the Columbus Bocce league gathered in the Columbus hall, South Liberty street, Sunday.

Plans were made to officially open the second half of the summer bocce tournament on Tuesday evening, July 9. The games will be played at the Columbus courts.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Vincent, and family, West Clayton street, have returned from Atlantic City, where they were vacationing.

Mrs. Lena Soloman, North Liberty street, is recuperating at her home from a recent operation in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Mary Organ, Mahoningtown R. D. 8, is reported to be getting along nicely in the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she is confined by illness.

Only Five Of 43 Indicted Persons Are Apprehended

Probe Of Circulation Of Communist Petitions Brings Many Indictments

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 8—Thirty-eight of the 43 persons indicted by the county grand jury last week in connection with the investigation of the circulation of Communist election petitions were still being hunted today, while party headquarters sent out a communication petitioning members to help provide the necessary bail.

County detectives checked most of the known addresses of the fugitives, and found only five. The others were listed officially as "missing."

Charles Gwynn, Western Pennsylvania chairman of the Communist party, told District Attorney Andrew T. Park, in a letter, that those being hunted would surrender at his office some time today.

The circular sent out from headquarters charged the Grand Jury's action was "illegal" and "unprecedented," and also claimed that the bail required was exhorbitant. Persons indicted on perjury counts were ordered to post $5,000, while those named on conspiracy and obtaining signatures under false pretense were ordered to put up $2,500.

City Police Have Quiet Week End

A gasoline station robbery in the Moravia street section was the only major week end entry on the city police docket.

Sergeants Dent H. Shields, Grover C. Syling and W. Gilmore Smith, the men who "cover" the desk at headquarters, agreed it was "one of the quietest for a long time."

Saturday night, they said, brought the "old story"—drunks. Sunday passed without much stir. Just usual routine calls came in. Most summer week ends for the force bring busier hours.

The gas station robbed was a William Milsom Co. unit at 1416 Moravia street.

HOW'S IT, UMP?—Why, you're out, of course. Pete Coscarart of the Dodgers is out during game in New York.

FANCY!—Acrobatics on the ball diamond as furnished by Max West, Bees' outfielder, on a fancy slide into second base.

Bees Defeat Dodgers Twice

Brooklyn Loses First Place As Reds Defeat Cubs, Indians Lose To White Sox

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 8.—They're revising the standings of the major league clubs these warm July days as often and as quickly as the boundary lines on an European map.

Yesterday no less than six clubs, including the league leaders in both races, changed positions, indicating that setting the pace at this early date requires a number of good breaks, a strong nervous system and planty of good baseball.

For example, the Brooklyn Dodgers won seven consecutive games, then dropped two tough one-run decisions, which caused them to be evicted from the pressure point—first place—in the Senior circuit.

Dodgers Drop Two

Although approximately 1,000 fervid flatbush fans traveled by special train to Boston to cheer their heroes on, the Durocher dandies ran into a school of good pitching and dropped both ends of a doubleheader to the Bees, 1 to 0 and 2 to 1. Manuel Salvo, a former Giant, whitewashed the Dodgers in the opener and Bill Posedel and Dick Coffman ganged up on them in the afterpiece.

While this was taking place, the Cincinnati Reds were defeating the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3, to move back into the lead. Big Bill Lee was charged with his eleventh defeat of the year when he walked Morrie Arnovich in the eighth to force in the winning score.

The "blow hot, blow cold" Pittsburgh Pirates grabbed their second doubleheader in as many days from St. Louis to trade sixth place for fifth with the Cardinals. Pittsburgh won 7 to 6 and 4 to 1. Philadelphia and New York ended the afternoon even-stephen, the Giants winning the first game of a twin-bill, 6 to 4 and the Phillies the second, 4 to 2.

Feller Defeated

The ageless Ted Lyons, the Chicago White Sox "Sunday" hurler, bested youthful Bob Feller in a pitchers' battle and set down the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 1. It was Feller's fifth loss against 13 victories.

Meanwhile, a 5 to 2 triumph over the St. Louis Browns restored the Detroit Tigers to first place in the American League. School-Boy Rowe was the victor, giving the Tigers their third straight win over heretofore, Giant-killing Browns.

Lefty Gomez suffered his first setback of the year when the New York Yankees dropped a 10 to 5 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics in the second game of a doubleheader after winning the first, 6 to 3. The last-place Washington Senators and failing Boston Red Sox halved a twin bill also. Boston won the first contest, 7 to 1, and Washington took the second 7 to 4.

PLAY EXHIBITION GAME

The Radiators and East Side Civics will play an exhibition game tonight at the Rad Field at 6 o'clock, it was announced by Manager Dundo Ambrosia.

Slovaks Arrange Heavy Schedule

The Slovak club will have a heavy schedule to face this week starting with a game tonight at Ryantown at 5:45 o'clock.

Tuesday the Slovaks will play the revamped Moose team at the Clifton Flats field and Thursday face Castlewood at Clifton Flats. On Saturday the feature game of the week will find the Slovak club battling the Lansingville, O., team, first half champs in the Greater Youngster baseball league. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

Choppy Going for Amateur Tars

It's choppy going for this graceful yacht on Long Island Sound at Larchmont, N. Y., during a regatta there. Heeling well to port, the yacht appears to be ready to flatten out, but such is not the case.

Sports World Ramblings

Along the sports rialto—Johnny "Singing Marine" Dean, who hung up the mitts following a defeat administered by the clever Jimmy Bivins, re-enters the scene on Monday, July 15, in Youngstown. He says his opponent has not been selected as yet. Jack Trammell and Eddie Blunt will clash in the feature setto with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis slated to serve as third man.

On paper, "Dizzy" Dean's record in the Texas league glitters like a hot August sun. But Dean can't finish his games. So far, he has copped four victories against a lone setback. Dean, however, has finished but one game. In his last march to the slab, the ex-great left the mound in the fifth. His sidearm delivery would never fool major league swatsmiths.

According to sources supposedly close to Pittsburgh Pirate doings, Arky Vaughan is on his way out. The informant says Arky won't be around in '41. . . . Baseball is much the same as it was a year ago, so far as top positions are concerned. When the glorious Fourth arrived in '39, the Dodgers and the Cleveland Indians were stationed at the top of the heap.

The biggest mystery in the big show is, "What has happened to Bill Dickey?" A leading player in the last decade, Dickey is now performing as a bit player, trying to reach the .200 mark. . . . The Dodgers continue to be the best road club in baseball, this season. At home, the Brooks have won 19 and lost 18. Up to Saturday, the Durochermen boasted of 21 wins against five losses on foreign territory.

A. A. Feed box—Big Ab Wright, Minneapolis seige gun who pumped out five circuit wallops on July 4, has boosted his mark to 21 base cleaners. . . . Minneapolis is still batting over .300 as a team. Their meter read—.310. . . . Hendrickson, Kansas City flinger, is developing into one of the prize peggers of the A. A. He has won seven victories against two reverses.

Bits of this and that—Eddie Brietz says El Galento peddled about $13,000 worth of tickets for his last fight. He did it in his suds joint. . . . Charles F. Berry, former coach at Grove City college, has taken over the reigns of the Wilmington, (Del.) team of the Inter-State league. He succeeds Charles A. (Chief) Bender, the Chippewa Indian. . . . Pictures of the Dempsey-Wrestler thing show that the ex-Manassa Mauler can still punch like a mule kicks.

John Kelly, Notre Dame football end, will be coaching Canterbury school, Catholic prep, at New Milford, Conn., next fall.

ZIVIC-HARRIS BATTLE TONIGHT

(International News Service)

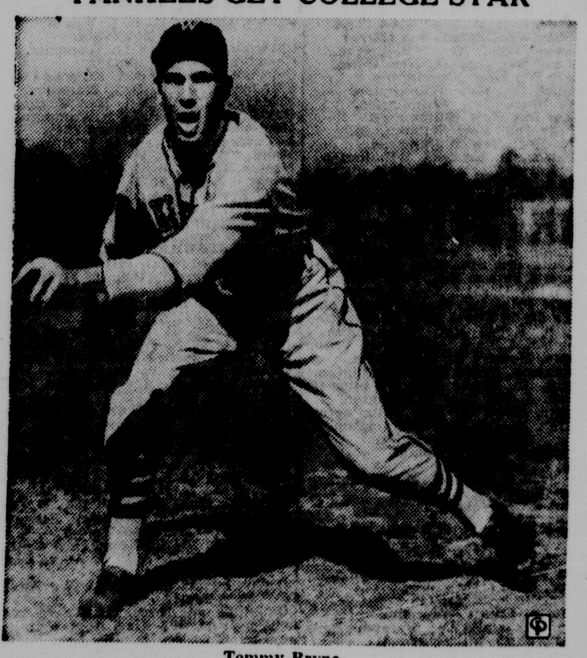

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—The odds were two to one today that Fritzie Zivic, Lawrenceville welterweight, would "put the damper" on Ossie Harris, Hill District Negro, in their return engagement at Hickey Park tonight. Zivic polished of Harris in three rounds in their last appearance in May.

INDIES WIN GAME

The New Castle Indies won a softball game yesterday from the I. W. O. team at Dean Park Field, 12 to 8. This was the third straight victory for the newly organized Indies team. Other victories were over Columbus Club, 23 to 4; and the Progressive Club, 11 to 5. For games, call 1192 and ask for Red or call 4651 and ask for Augustine.

Varsity boxing at Wisconsin earned $20,567, the past season, second only to football in gate receipts. It was the only other sport to show a profit.

YANKEES GET COLLEGE STAR

Tommy Bryne

Star pitcher for Wake Forest college, Charlotte, N. C., Tommy Bryne has been signed with the Yankee-owned Newark Bears of the International league. Bryne, a six-footer and a star for two years, is a southpaw and is in his second year at the Deacon school.

Lawrence Indies Win First-Half

Defeat Croton 11 To 9 To Take Championship Of First-Half Of City League

The Lawrence Indies won the first-half championship in the City baseball league yesterday at Croton Field before the largest crowd of the year. The score was 11 to 9 in a free-hitting battle.

Manager George "Hoss" Zidow started Russu and he did a swell job until the last of the ninth and when Croton started a three-run rally Russu came out and Pat Majocha saved the day.

The Indies piled up a big lead in the first five innings, only to see the Crotons stage a three-run attack in the last of the seventh and then score two more in the last of the eighth.

Win 15 Games

Pepe started for the Crotonians and gave way to Stone in the third when the Indies did their heaviest hitting. Extra-base hits were made by Byak, Micco and Stone.

Henry Koszela and Mosley led the Indies at bat with three hits apiece.

It was the 15th win for the Indies against three defeats.

Johnson Bronze Not Champs Yet

No Regular City Class A Softball Games This Week, Meeting Friday

Through a misunderstanding, it was announced Saturday that the Johnson Bronze team had won the first-half title in the Class A softball league, but this is not certain yet. They have two postponed games to play off and if they lose both of them they can still be tied for the title.

The postponed games are with the East Side Civics and the Rads. They will be played this week, the Bronzers and Rads clash Wednesday at Gaston Park.

The second half of the league season will start Monday July 15. There will be a meeting of the managers Friday night at which time discussion of the second half will take place. All releases will be handled by the managers Friday at the meeting.

John E. Topolski Weds Sharon Girl

Beautiful Church Ceremony Solemnized Saturday Morning By Rev. Hoeing

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8—A lovely wedding was solemnized on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in the St. Joseph church at Sharon when Miss Eugenia Gazda of Sharon and John E. Topolski, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Topolski, First avenue, this city, said "I do".

Preceding the ceremony, Jules Sitz with Mrs James Snyder as accompanist, sang a number of lovely selections, and Mrs. Snyder played the Lohengrin wedding march.

The altar was attractively decorated with white roses, snowballs, palms and ferns. Rev. August Hoeing officiated in the presence of many relatives and friends from this city, Dearborn, Mich., Chicago, Pittsburgh vicinity, Beaver Valley, New Castle and Greenville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of double net fashioned with a full skirt and basque bodice Her train edged with lace fell from her waist and her finger tip veil was attached to a tiny cap of orange blossoms. Wearing lace mitts, she carried white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Olga Gazda, her sister, was maid of honor and wore a pretty gown of yellow marquisette with a matching veil and her flowers were blue delphiniums and yellow roses.

Miss Helen Topolski, Ellwood, and Miss Jean Jozcszyk of North Braddock, bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of blue marquisette with a matching veil and carried roses and delphiniums.

Frank Powell of this city was best man and ushers included Anthony Laposki of New Brighton and Stanley Dombeck of New Castle.

A reception for 50 guests followed at the Polish hall in Sharon.

In the evening they departed on a two weeks' post-nuptial trip and upon their return will reside at 819 Park avenue, this city.

She is a graduate of the Sharon high school and has been employed at the Westinghouse plant at Sharon. Mr. Topolski graduated from the local high school with the class of '35 and is employed as shipping clerk by the Ellwood Furniture company.

Campbell Funeral Tuesday Afternoon

Well-Known Resident Dies Suddenly Sunday Morning At Park Gate Home

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8.—Mrs. Howard Campbell, aged 67 years, died suddenly on Sunday morning at 1:45 o'clock at her home, in Park Gate.

She had been in her usual health and her sudden death comes as a great shock to a legion of close friends. She was a life-long resident of the Ellwood district and was affectionately regarded. Mrs. Campbell was a faithful member of the Park Gate Baptist church.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Clarence Hoffman, of Wiley Hill; Mrs. Bessie Baker, of Hartman Stop; and six nephews, Robert and Elmer Hamilton and Albert Heckathorne, all of Beaver Falls; William and Albert Baker and Kenneth Watson, of this city.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Park Gate Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. Robert Barr, to officiate. Interment will be made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Annual Picnic Of Lilyville Church

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8—One of Saturday's delightful picnics was the annual outing of the Lilyville Church of God which took place at Ewing Park grove.

It was an all-day affair with delicious picnic meals being served at noon and in the early evening to the 150 guests attending by Mrs. Lena Crans and the Welcome Couples class.

A fine sports program for all of the class groups was directed by Arthur Leininger with nice prizes going to the winners. Featuring the day was a ball game between the single and married men with the latter group being victorious.

Atkinson-Harmon Marriage Revealed

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Atkinson of Ellwood City announce the marriage of their daughter, Ann. Alyce, to Ramon Chester Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harmon of Petrolia, R. D.

The marriage took place June 28 at Winchester, Va., with the Rev. H. G. Balthis performing the ceremony. Mrs. Harmon is a graduate of Lincoln High school, Ellwood City and the bridegroom was graduated from Fairview Township-Karns City High school and Ohio Northern university. He is principal and coach at Bristolville, O., school.

Miss Marie Carlin Becomes Bride Of John L. Arkwright

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8.—In one of three wedding ceremonies solemnized by Rev. W. E. Minteer, pastor of the First U. P. church, at his home, in Crescent avenue, on Saturday afternoon, Miss Marie Carlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Carlin, of Tenth street, became Mrs. John L. Arkwright, at 4:30 o'clock.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arkwright, of the Ellwood-New Brighton road.

Attired in a pretty pink ensemble with a matching corsage, the bride, attended only by her mother, presented an attractive picture.

On Sunday evening, a family dinner honoring the couple took place at the Carlin home.

They are residing in a Tenth street apartment. Mr. Arkwright is affiliated with the D. K. Cole Construction company.

Riccardi-Maietta Wedding Saturday

Participation Of Bride's Five Sisters Is Unusual Feature Of Ceremony

ELWOOD CITY, July 8.—An unusual feature of the wedding of Miss Julia Riccardi to Charles Maietta was the participation of five of the bride's sisters as attendants. The ceremony was performed on Saturday morning at the B. V. M. church, in Fourth street, with Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano as officiant.

Given in marriage by her father, James Riccardi, the bride was charming in a gown of white brocaded velvet and she carried calla lilies. Orange blossoms adorned the bonet of her veil.

Her sister, Connie, as maid of honor, appeared in blue satin with a pink tiara and a shoulder length veil while her flowers were pink roses.

Misses Jennie, Sue, Josephine and Ida Riccardi, dressed alike in aqua blue and carrying tea roses, formed a beautiful setting for the bride.

Michael Inaction, of Mahoningtown was the best man. Joseph Dominella was ringbearer and Thelma Ferres, the flower girl.

After the ceremony a breakfast was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dom Maietta, of Lawrence avenue.. A reception for a large number of relatives and guests followed in the evening at Dugan hall.

Returning from a wedding trip, they will reside at 800 Wampum avenue. Mr. Maietta is employed at Wampum.

Daufen Reunion Is Enjoyable Affair

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8.—Descendants of Mrs. Melissa Daufen gathered at home, near Riverview, on Saturday for the annual reunion, with 95 in attendance.

Mrs. Daufen is the mother of 10 children and has 41 grand and 55 great-grandchildren, and most of them were present with their families.

Delicious picnic meals were enjoyed at noon and in the early evening.

During the meeting the following officers were elected: president, Norman Hall; vcie president, William Daufen; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mildred Vollrath; tables, Mrs. Wilbert Hall and Harvey Hartzell; sports, Mrs. Harry Daufen and Frank Smith, and grounds, Edward Daufen and Mrs. Harry Daufen.

Featuring the afternoon was a merry sports program directed by Mrs. Jacob Daufen, with suitable awards for all the winners.

It was decided to meet again in 1941 on the second Saturday of July at Ewing Park grove.

Knox Classes To Have Wiener Roast

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8—Members of the Adult Bible classes of the Knox Presbyterian church were pleasantly entertained on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rape, of Knox.

Twenty members participated in the affair with the meeting being conducted by Mrs. Elmer Moyer. Games and a pleasant social hour followed with tempting refreshments being served by the hostess.

For the next meeting on Friday, August 2, a viener roast was planned to be held at the Moyer home, on the Ellwood-Zelienople road.

Evans City Boy Dies Of Wound

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., July 8.—Dr. M. E. Headland, Butler county coroner, pronounced accidental today the death of Donn Harden Eberle, 11, son of Carl F. Eberle, of Evans City, who died instantly late yesterday afternoon from a shot in the chest from a .25 calibre revolver owned by his father. The boy's mother sent him to the room for a minor offense and he found the revolver, the coroner said.

Jane Newton Weds Richard Miller, Jr.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8.—Miss Jane Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newton of Wiley Hill, and Richard Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller of Wiley Hilll, were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the manse of the First U. P. church.

Rev. W. E. Minteer officiated, using the popular single ring ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a becoming ensemble of green and white crepe with which she wore white accessories and a harmonizing corsage. They were unattended.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple departed on a wedding trip to Gettysburg and Washington, D. C., and returning home will reside in a newly furnished apartment on Wayne avenue.

They are well-known in this city and have many friends. The bride is employed in the office of the Mathew Conveyor company and the bridegroom is employed as an electrician by the Aetna Standard Engineering company.

Morrison-Mueller Marriage Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8. — A prominent Ellwood couple, Miss Isabel Morrison, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Morrison, of Wayne avenue; and Bruno R. Mueller, of this city, were united in holy wedlock on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The impressive single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Minteer at the United Presbyterian manse, in Crescent avenue.

The bride was attractively attired in a burnt sugar street length frock fashioned with a blue bolero. With it she wore a dark natural straw hat and a pretty corsage of gardenias and orange blossoms.

Immediately after the ceremony, they departed on a wedding trip to the New England states. They will reside in this city.

Mrs. Mueller has been employed for several years as a bookkeeper by the People's National Bank and the bridegrom is associated with the sales department of the National Tube company.

Former Resident Is Married Here

ELLWOOD CITY, July 8—A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's rectory ,521 Waldo street, New Castle, on Wednesday, July 3, when Wilfred George Hobbs and Margaret Lucas both of Pittsburgh were united in holy matrimony by the pastor, Rev. Charles J. Burton. The couple was attended by Mrs. Morfydd Wilkison and Mrs. Faidie L. Burton. Mr. Hobbs was a former resident of Ellwood City and a member of St. Luke's church. After a brief auto trip they will be at home at 1137 Updegraff avenue, North Homestead, Pittsburgh.

Caesar Kroeger

Caesar Kroeger, a building superintendent, is booked at New York police headquarters on charge of possessing guns without a permit. The guns, together with a large amount of German-American bund literature, were found in his rooms when detectives were questioning him in connection with the bomb explosion at the World's Fair.

Not Germans—Colombians

In South America, where Germans outnumber North Americans 85-1, this is a common sight. Colombian soldiers, shown in Buenaventura, appear, at first glance, to be a troop of German soldiers. Much equipment is of German origin or type, particularly the coal-scuttle helmets. (Central Press)

Henry Armstrong Quite Confident

Thinks That He Will Defeat Lew Jenkins In Bout On July 17

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., July 8.—That little human dynamo, Henry Armstrong, who is by all odds the most intelligent of the ring champions, today drew a significant parallel between a battle 10 years ago and the one he is to have with lightweight champion Lew Jenkins July 17.

"Just 10 years ago," said Henry, "a skinny anemic-looking kid named Al Singer, who was managed by Hymie Caplin, scored a sensational kayo over Sammy Mandell to win the lightweight title. Mandell had weakened himself by making weight.

"Only recently Lew Jenkins, another fellow who looks as if he were ready for a hospital, also scored a sensational kayo to win the lightweight title. He beat Lou Ambers who, like Mandell, was a veteran weakened trying to make weight.

Armstrong Confident

"Two months after winning the title, Singer took on Jimmy McLarnin, the best of welterweights, and Jimmy belted him out in short order.

"And now Jenkins is going to meet me and I hope I won't be considered too immodest if I say I am the best of the welters today. At least, I hold the welterweight title."

At this point, an impatient interviewer wanted to know if Henry thought the result would be the same as in the Singer-McLarnin fight.

"Well, I shouldn't be surprised," said Henry. "The only thing bothering me now is this weight agreement. You see I have to make 140 pounds for him. I weighed 145 this morning and that means I'll have to take off five pounds in a little more than a week. I think I can do it."

All-Star Game To Draw Crowd

Ticket Sale For Tuesday's Game In St. Louis Has Been Quite Heavy

By ROBERT HEREFORD
International News Service Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—St. Louis, the western outpost of major league baseball, occupied the baseball spotlight today as it awaited arrival of the game's most scintilating stars, who will play tomorrow in the eighth annual all-star game.

Club owners of the two major leagues also were converging on the city for meetings. American league moguls will confer during the afternoon and the National league club owners will meet tonight.

A sell-out crowd appeared in prospect for the all-star spectacle. Sportsman Park, scene of this year's contest, has a seating capacity of 33,000. Officials of the St. Louis Cardinals, the host ball club, announced today that all grandstand seats have been sold, and that 2,000 of the 3,000 reserved seats also have been sold.

Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox, will lead the favored American league team in the junior circuit's bid for its sixth all-star win. Bill McKechnie, pilot of the Cincinnati Reds, will handle the National leaguers, seeking their third victory in the series.

Good Ticket Sale

While announcement of the ticket sale showed that St. Louis fans, who usually don't go for baseball in large doses, are definitely all-star game conscious, the advance sale has by no means been strictly local. The Cardinals office revealed many requests for reservations had been received from the far west, and that reservations have been made by fans in almost every state of the union.

Prior to the National league meeting, the possibility was being discussed that league President Ford Frick might bring up the idea of batters wearing helmets to prevent "beaning." It is known Frick has been studying the idea.

Should any matters arise which would necessitate action of both the leagues, a joint meeting of American and National league moguls would be held with Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis the day of the all-star game.

Bill Francis Joins Hole-In-One Club

William A. Francis ruined his golf game from now on when on Sunday he scored a hole-in-one on number 13 of the New Castle Field Club. The hole is a tricky 135-yard hole and Bill used a number six iron. Like a homing pigeon headed for the barn the ball arched up over the hazards, onto the green and slid into the cup with the greatest of ease.

Playing with Mr. Francis were Earl Williams, Charles Pyle and W. J. Stafford. A hole-in-one is perfection in golf so there isn't anything left in the game for Francis.

BOOSTER SOFTBALL GAME

The Fannins and Gus Big Ten will play a booster softball game tonight at 6 o'clock at the Rose avenue field. Frank Fannin will have his strongest lineup available. The teams are friendly rivals and a fast battle is looked for. Gunther will pitch for the Gus team and will be opposed by either Cowden or Lane.

The ancient English game of cricket was known in the fourteeth century. The first rules were made in 1774

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

According to the newly painted sign at the entrance to the Fair Grounds . . . the New Castle Fair will be held the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th of August. The Fair board has been working hard this past winter and spring, and we hope that a large crowd turns out to see their efforts. Some mighty fine races will be held, with the possibility of some local horses making an appearance.

* * *

According to reports . . . the Robert Sterling Fan Club is progressing and membership cards are now ready for those who wish them . . . contact Mary Maturo at 419 Lutton street, or Helen Alex at 425 East Long avenue . . . Robert Sterling, alias Bill Hart, of New Castle, is appearing in "Manhattan Heartbeat", in which he has the lead. This picture, according to reports, was originally known as "The Bad Girl" which played here a number of years ago . . . Sterling's next lead picture will be "Yesterday's Heroes", a football picture. . . Sterling also took the romantic lead in "Ghost of Cisco Kid", starring Cesar Romero . . . by the way, folks, you may witness "Manhattan Heartbeat" at a local theater in the near future.

* * *

It will probably be nice and warm tonight . . . a good time to enjoy an ice cream social with all the trimmings . . . strawberries, cake and candy. Try the First Christian church lawn . . . it will satisfy.

* * *

It's funny how some people act when they get out in the country. We are living by a little stream that seems to be a favorite for the fishermen . . . most of these sportsmen are gentlemen, but we find a few who don't seem to give a damn what they do . . . yesterday two came right up on our front yard and started to fish . . . when they were asked to move further downstream they seemed to think it a great crime . . . what would they do if someone came in their front yard and sat down? . . . and one of these fellows said he was a fish warden . . . what manner of men are on this job? Folks, when you go out into the country, fishing or hunting . . . don't you think it would be a nice gesture to ask the farmer or owner of the property if it was all right for you to trespass . . . we know the law about posting property, but after all if it wasn't for the country folks and the State Department of Fisheries, where would you be. Try to be a gentleman at all times and you won't have any difficulty in having a good time wherever you go.

Stock Market Is Firm Today

Motor Shares Are Firm, But Steel Prices Are Narrow As New Week Starts

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, July 8.—The stock market was firm in dull dealings today, a continuation of the cautious trading of recent sessions.

Most of the price changes were small and without significance as traders and investors awaited clarification of events at home and abroad.

Turnover in the first hour was only 60,000 shares.

One of the few price movements of consequence was a 2-point rise in Union Pacific at the opening.

There was some profit-taking in the tractions after the rise last week. B. M. T. dropped a point.

The steel shares were extremely narrow. They were somewhat higher as a rule though Bethlehem eased after a fractional gain.

Motor shares were firm but here, too, price changes were meaningless.

Aviations started irregular and then firmed up. Douglas regained an early fractional loss. United Aircraft was higher from the start, and Lockheed firmed up also.

Steadiness was the rule elsewhere, in such groups as oils, mail orders, utilities and coppers.

Wheat rose a cent a bushel on adverse crop reports. Cotton also was higher.

DENVER'S FORTY PLUS MEMBERS AID JOBLESS

(International News Service)

DENVER—In a drive to place "white collar" workers over forty back into private employment, more than 25 per cent of the members of a newly organized "Forty Plus Club of Colorada" organization found jobs during the first month of the group's compaign.

The "Forty Plus" idea is nation-wide and accepts as members only men over forty, who can prove that they have formerly earned at least $3,000 a year, and are capable of holding similar jobs now.

Metropolitan police headquarters announced recently that the population of Greater Tokio was 7,001,650, an increase of 691,074 since 1935.

His "Death Ray Gun" Destroyed

Milton McWhorter, 91-year-old Bakersfield, Cal., inventor, is shown (left) chatting with a reporter after his cabin (background) had been broken into by unknown persons who destroyed the "death ray gun" McWhorter had perfected for national defense. The aged inventor claims his device killed a bull and a flock of geese at a range of two miles, using "channelized X-rays." (Central Press)

A Reporter's Job is Everywhere

A reporter never knows where his next story will be. Newshawk Hubert Bernhard, assigned by the New York Journal and American to take a flying course, to learn at first hand the experiences of young men being given pilot training by the federal government, finds himself deep in a training plane in New York, experiencing what he terms a "hodge podge of emotions." (Central Press)

Cripple Arrested as Killer

A cripple for the last thirteen years, Anthony Orlando, 37, is removed from his home in Scranton, Pa., by police who arrested him for the murder of his neighbor, Caspar Vescio. Police said Orlando, who had his back broken in a mine accident, fired from his bedroom window, killing Vescio eighty feet away. (Central Press)

Pretty Refugee

Miss Greta Baerman

At U. S. Gibraltar

Brigadier General Edmund L. Daley, head of the general staff of the Department of Puerto Rico, is shown studying a map as the United States strengthens the Caribbean Gibraltar, rapidly becoming one of America's most important outposts. Watching, is Lieutenant Colonel Thomas J. Hanley, assistant chief of staff. (Central Press)

A New Johnson Gun

Here is the newest war weapon devised by Melvin M. Johnson, Jr., of Boston, inventor of the Johnson semi-automatic rifle which aroused controversy when compared to the army's Garand rifle. The new gun may be used either as a single shot rifle, a semi-automatic rifle or as a machine gun by turning a thumb lever. Top, loading the gun. Bottom, the inventor uses his gun, weighing 12½ pounds, as a pistol. (Central Press)

No "Ghost Writers" To Serve Wendell Willkie

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth and last in a series of informative articles on the life of Wendell Willkie, the Hoosier boy who ran an active brain, a ready wit, and an engaging personality into the Republican nomination for the Presidency.)

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 8.—There is an old saw that "you can take a boy out of the country but can't take the country out of a boy." It might have been written to describe Wendell Willkie.

Installed as president of Commonwealth & Southern Corporation it might be expected that he would "go Manhattan," live in a gilded palace and function behind a defense of seven secretaries. Willkie has remained as plain and as comfortable as an old shoe.

He answers the telephone himself at his offices. His home phone is listed in the Manhattan book and he even has an additional listing under "Wilkie" on the assumption that many persons spell his name incorrectly.

He lives in an apartment on Fifth Avenue but the address is not nearly so pretentious as it sounds and as others have pointed out, Mayor LaGuardia, who is no high-hatter, lives a short distance away on the avenue.

The apartment itself is furnished, in the words of Genevieve Brown who is an old friend of the Willkies, "like any good middle class home in Indiana."

Prodiguous Writer

The Willkie's have one maid, they seldom go to the theater but they both like to read and when Willkie isn't reading he's writing a piece for the magazines or filling a speaking date somewhere.

He is a prodiguous writer and has had two or three articles turn up in magazines in the same month. He is also a "letters to the editor" writer and one letter which was rejected by a small class publication because it was a rebuttal to an article of theirs, he sent along to the Saturday Evening Post and it was accepted at usual rates."

Willkie has never had and does not contemplate having a "ghost writer." Anything that appears under his name is written by him.

He never has "gone Manhattan" and probably never would. Even the days of plenty when others were tossing money around like beach sand found him buying Indiana farms and conservative bank stock.

He has never owned an automobile and rides either the subway or in a taxi,—depending on which will deliver him the fastest.

There is no gloss on the man to wear off nor has he accumulated any since his nomination.

There is natural speculation as to how he would conduct himself as president.

Would Wear Well

Those who know him best say: "He would wear well."

His life and career to this day have been open to anyone's inspection. Both have been fine-combed by experts and the worst that has been said of him is "he is a utility man."

He says:

"I have never found it necessary to apologize to anyone for that. Utilities supply needed services and I am rather proud to have been associated with them."

In his campaign he will be a hard puncher but even his opponents will concede in advance that he will keep his punches up for he always has."

He can lose this election but America will be the better for the fight. That is already indicated by his stand against big campaign donations, against a system of rewards based on contributions and against pledges and promises which might ham-string him in office.

"I don't know how other presidents have gone into the White House," he says, "but that's the way I'm going in—without committments or pledges direct, indirect, contingent or remote."

That is Wendell Willkie—a gentleman from Indiana.

At The Airport

The long-awaited three-passenger Piper Cub Cruiser arrived at the New Castle airport Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Findley Wilson went to the factory at Lock Haven, Pa., to fly the ship home.

In addition to the Cruiser, a Travel-Air powered with a Wright Whirlwind engine, has been added at the port, along with a Funk cabin plane. The Travel-Air is being flown by Paul Taylor, and Fin Wilson owns the Funk.

Mrs. S. I. Leasure, age 75, of Enon Valley, added another thrill to her life Sunday afternoon, when she took her first airplane ride. She was accompanied by two grandsons, Donald, seven, and Paul Leasure, of this city. Bud Horchler was the pilot, in the Waco bi-plane.

An army pursuit plane, piloted by Dale Anderson of West Pittsburg, was stored at the New Castle airport during the week-end. Dale flew here from his post at Langley Field, Va., to visit his family and friends.

The new Westminster college flying class was busy all day Sunday, and the students chalked up many hours, taking advantage of the fine weather.

Dr. Jamison, of Saginaw, Mich., landed at the port Sunday evening and left his Stinson Reliant at the hangar overnight. He was accompanied by his family who went to Grove City to spend a few days with relatives. Dr. Jamison left this morning for home.

Last Surviving Civil War Veteran Dies In Mercer Co.

MERCER, Pa., July 8.—Mercer county's last surviving Civil War veteran, 96-year-old George E. Hamilton, died Sunday at his home in Mercer from what a physician termed the infirmities of old age.

He was one of two survivors of the One Hundred and Fortieth Pennsylvania Volunteers and served with Company I during the entire four years of the war between the states. He was wounded once.

Hamilton claimed to be the last surviving veteran in northwestern Pennsylvania who saw President Lincoln during the war years. The Great Emancipator several times reviewed Hamilton's regiment.

Surviving are a son, John A. Hamilton, of Imperial, and a daughter, Anna, a teacher in the Pittsburgh public schools.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, with the American Legion and other patriotic organizations participating.

Matthews Has "Old Fashioned Garden"

Many folks have heard the song "In An Old Fashioned Garden"; that is just what Mr. and Mrs. Sam Matthews have in a space about 40 by 40 feet, in the rear of their home at 506 Lyndal street. On the lawn in front and at the side of the house there are four mounds of old fashioned flowers or many sorts and hues, and a pretty hedge, flower bushes and ferns surround the whole.

Among the vegetables, shrubs, etc., growing in the patch in the rear are thyme, rhue, sage, savory, asparagus, 3 kinds of lettuce, tomatoes, green beans, broad beans, Baynes berries, shives, leeks, parsley green onions, radishes, strawberries, black currants, raspberries, rhubarb, potatoes, cauliflower, beets, peppers, lima beans egg plants, hops, wormwood, also a mint bush transplanted from the grounds of Craigy-y-Nos Castle, Wales, formerly owned and occupied by the late Madame Adelina Patti, the famous French soprano.

Mr. Matthews is a retired tinplate worker, and has resided in this city about 40 years. He takes much pride in his garden, and it can be readily seen that it receives much careful attention.

Cole Brothers Circus Showing Here Tomorrow

Top—Cole Bros. exhibited at Louisville, Ky., the day before the famous Derby race, scene above shows the immense crowd waiting for doors of big top to open, two afternoon performances were given.

Left middle—This picture recalls memories to many old-timers when they were youngsters as the call, "who wants to carry water for the elephants" met with ready response, nowdays the huge pachyderms are taken to convenient fire plugs for their bath and drink.

Bottom—This scene will be enacted early tomorrow morning when the circus train arrives over the Pennsylvania lines and starts unloading at Cedar street shortly after daybreak.

CIRCUS DAY INFORMATION

TICKETS—Downtown ticket office opens at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at Love & Megown's Drug Store.

DEPARTURE—Via Pennsylvania Lines for Mansfield, Ohio, where they exhibit, Wednesday.

Red lemonade, peanuts, popcorn and what nots, that's the program for tomorrow—it's Circus Day, the first and only one for New Castle this season, Cole Bros. Big Railroad Circus, giving afternoon and night performances at Ceder street grounds.

Old timers recall that not over twenty years ago there were twenty odd railroad circus's on the road, this number has dwindled down to two, Cole Bros. who are showing here tomorrow being one. The circus is an institution that will never die, coming down through more than one hundred years, growing bigger and better each year and no other amusement offers such a wide diversified program for old and young alike, another point that circus owners pride themselves on is that it is the only branch of the amusement industry that has never been censored, Cole Bros. still adhere to their policy of presenting nothing but the best of white top features and this season is no exception.

Circus lovers will find three rings, stages, air and hippodrome track filled during the two hour program with such stars as the Loyal-Repinsky Troupe, four beautiful girls and four agile men riders, greatest bare back riding act ever brought to this country; The Gonzales, The Three Jesters, sensational aerialists; The Escalentes, dare devil flyers; Herbert Weber, in slides for life from the peak of the big top; Cyce O'Dell, America's outstanding lady gymnast; Tarrio Brothers, Freeman Trio and Connor Troupe, tumblers and acrobats and over 400 others presenting 100 features in the air and on the ground, it's a great show one which public and press along their route have commented most highly and no doubt circus lovers of New Castle and vicinity will turn out en masse to see this great show of stars, headed by screen's greatest Western star, Ken Maynard, who brings a great array of wild west and rodeo stars from the Hollywood studio.

Performances will start promptly at 2 and 8, doors to big top will open at 1 and 7, this permitting ample time to inspect the big menagerie with it's colossal collection of animals and visit the famous side shows with it's fifty features from the San Francisco Exposition.

A downtown ticket office will open at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at Love & MeGoun Drug Store, where general admission and reserved seat tickets for either performance may be purchased at same prices as at show grounds—for Tuesday afternoon only, children's admission has been reduced to 25c.

Five Hurt As Auto Sideswipes Bridge

Bessemer Residents Are Injured In Crash Shortly After Midnight

Five residents of Bessemer were injured, none seriously, when an automobile driven by John Matuz, aged 26, of Bessemer, sideswiped a bridge on the State Line road, four miles west of Bessemer, shortly after midnight. They were brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital by Melon Percic, where they were treated, only one, Louis Mehocic, aged 14, being admitted to the hospital. He suffered a severe laceration of the scalp.

In addition to the driver and Mehocic, the others who were treated included: Dominic Rozzini, laceration over left eye; Joseph Certalic, abrasions; Anna Mehocic, laceration of lip. Matuz suffered slight chest injuries.

Special Services At Gospel Mission

A week of special services will start at the Gospel Mission this evening at 7:45 o'clock with Rev. Helen D. Wilson, evangelist, as speaker.

Rev. Wilson has been heard at the mission in two other series of meeting and will not only bring the messages each evening, but will assist with the singing. Miss Mildred Brown will have charge of the music, including several special numbers.

Tonight will be Sunday school night with an object lesson for children preceding the message.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held tonight from 10 to 11 at the home of Rev. Wilson, 104 South Crawford avenue, Tuesday with Mabel Weimer, 41 Dean Block, and Thursday morning, with Mrs. Charles Williams, 717 Croton avenue.

Many good citizens cry: "He's leading us into war." But, Alas! for three years the fifth columnists have used the same moan to keep us weak and unarmed.
